Dismembered corpse is Irish drug dealer

THE dismembered body of a suspected Irish drug dealer has been pulled from a canal in Amsterdam.

Keith Ennis, 30, from Dublin, was wanted by Gardai after failing to appear in court on drugs and firearms charges 18 months ago.

His body was found in Diemerzeedijk canal in the Dutch capital on February 24 but his identity was only confirmed yesterday after the results of DNA and fingerprint tests.

It is not known how long Ennis was in the Netherlands before his body was discovered.

He was due in court in Dublin in 2007 on charges linked to a 100,000 euro haul of drugs and firearms recovered in the city.

Both police services are now co-operating to try to determine where he was killed.

TRAMP FINGERS KNOXY

Hobo witness saw murder accused at scene

AN Italian tramp has told a court he saw Amanda Knox and her former boyfriend close to the house where British student Meredith Kercher was murdered.

Antonio Curatolo, 52, said he saw Knox and Raffaele Sollecito "chatting animatedly" on a basketball court in a square close to the house.

He told the court he saw them "around five times" between 9.30pm and midnight the night that Meredith was murdered.

Knox and Sollecito have always claimed they were at home the night Meredith was killed in November 2007 and did not leave until the following morning.

By CHARLOTTE SWINFELD

When asked if he recognised the two people he had seen in court, he said he could and pointed out Knox and Sollecito who were sitting just a few yards away from him.

Bedroom

According to an autopsy report, police and prosecutors believe Meredith was murdered between 9pm and 11pm on November 1, 2007.

She was found semi-naked and with her throat cut in the bedroom of the house she shared with Knox in Perugia, Italy.

The trial has already heard from prosecutor Giuliano Mignini that she was murdered after refusing to take part in a drug fuelled sex game.

Knox, dressed in a lilac jumper and blue jeans, exchanged glances with Sollecito in court and during breaks smiled and joked with warders guarding her.

The court earlier heard from a woman who said she had heard a "prolonged" scream coming from the house the night Meredith was killed and imitated it for the court.

Nara Capezzali said the scream made her "skin crawl" and still troubled her now.

Knox's mother Edda Mellas has arrived to give her support but will not be allowed to attend court as she is listed as a witness.

Old lady is forgery mastermind

A SWEET old lady has stunned police by masterminding a lucrative bus pass forgery ring.

Pensioner Gladys Primrose, 75, looks like butter wouldn't melt.

But the Women's Institute member was earning a mint flogging fake, free passes to people not quite old enough to qualify for one.

Primrose, from London, has pleaded guilty to forgery and faces a prison sentence.

A police source said: "On face value she appears to be a pillar of the community, but she's a sinister character motivated by wealth and greed."

Officers revealed she had nearly a quarter-of-a million pounds in a Swiss bank account.

His family have been told he could have been killed by Sudden Adult Death Syndrome.

SUICIDE BUMMER

Meet the world's campest terrorist

INTELLIGENCE chiefs are hunting the world's campest terrorist.

The man, dubbed "The suicide bummer", is thought to be masterminding a string of attacks against British citizens.

MI5 spooks have released this picture of Omar Haqqani, warning he poses a significant threat to world peace.

Haqqani, 42, is currently hiding in either Afghanistan or Iraq and thought to be running nearly a dozen terror training camps.

But Iraq-born Haqqani

By NEIL GOODWIN

has raised eyebrows among supporters for his dress sense and "jolly" demeanour.

A source told Sunday Sport: "He's an evil, evil man. Osama bin Laden himself thinks he's too extreme. But he's also as camp as Christmas."

Camp

"Several key figures among Al Qaeda have questioned his sexuality, but because of his track record in murder and mayhem they never question his loyalty to the cause."

Stripper is stag's MOTHER

A MAN has been scarred for life after licking cream from a stripper's boobs... only to discover it was his MOTHER!

Mark Green had demanded everyone on his stag do had their faces painted for the occasion.

But the 24-year-old's Spider-Man disguise meant his mum - who had been booked as a strip-a-gram - didn't recognise her son.

Mark - who was blindfolded when his mum Janice, 44, arrived - recalls how he hungrily lapped his mum's norks.

The red-faced Yorkshireman, from Bradford, said: "It's the stuff of nightmares.

"She didn't recognise me and I couldn't see through the blindfold.

"There was a pair of boobs in my face covered with whipped cream and all my friends were shouting, 'lick it off! lick it off!'.

"The fun was well and truly over when I whipped the blind fold off, though.

"I'm going to need years of counselling to get over it.

The wedding has been put on hold until family members start speaking to each other again.

Lift trap man eats pet dog

A MAN survived being trapped in a lift for ten days by eating his own dog.

The tragic story unfolded as builder John Close and his beloved pet, Fudge, became trapped in a Birmingham office block.

The building had closed for a fortnight as essential repairs to the basement were carried out.

Close, 52, was stranded 100ft up with no mobile phone and only Fudge to keep him company.

Dehydrated and starving, he strangled Fudge before eating him raw.

The singleton was eventually rescued when the office reopened.

He's now being offered counselling and is said to be 'beyond heartbroken'.

Tomatoes cause row

AN American and an Englishman have come to blows over TOMATOES!

Yank Casey Bennett, 22, and Brit Jim Barnham, 25, were in Buns and Meat booty shop in Shrewsbury, when an argument broke out.

Shop owner Tracey Jacks said: "The American said it was 'tomayto', the Brit said it was 'tomarto' and I said they should call the whole thing off.

"This lit the blue touch paper and punched each other until I threatened them with a rolling pin. That stopped them."

CHUCKLE BROTHER BULLIES MADE ME SUICIDAL

IT'S NO JOKE: John Clement outside his employment tribunal

Tribunal hears how office teasing drove comic's double to nervous breakdown

AN OFFICE worker had suicidal thoughts because of years of ridicule he suffered from colleagues because he looks like one of the Chuckle Brothers, an employment tribunal heard.

John Clement, 56, told the South Yorkshire Tribunal that he was mercilessly teased by clients, his co-workers and the public for years over his resemblance to elder Chuckle sibling Barry, 64.

Clement, who worked for Steamwest Stationary in Sheffield, took every insult to heart and would often cry himself to sleep.

The bachelor, who lives with his mother in Sheffield, was singled out because of his distinctive moustache and the fact the Chuckle Brothers are from nearby Rotherham.

He told the court that he was, in effect, bullied out of his job because he was too scared to go into his office.

The tribunal heard

BULLYING: John's office

By CHRIS RIVERSIDE

that as well as abuse from work mates, clients and the public ridiculed him too, thinking that John was actually Barry Chuckle who had fallen on hard times.

Eventually the barrage of digs that John received became too much and he took an overdose of sleeping pills. Luckily he was found by his mum and survived.

Addressing the tribunal, John said: "My life became a living hell because of me looking like that bugger.

"I love the Chuckle Brothers and so do my kids.

"But, let me tell you, being Barry's double blighted my life.

"Wherever I'd go there would be a chorus of 'To me, to you' and if I ever dropped anything people would be queuing up to shout 'Oh dear, oh dear'."

The tribunal heard that the name calling began in 1987 when ChuckleVision was first aired on Children's BBC.

Gag

Co-worker Alan Pleasance said: "The second those two went on the telly, John's life went into free fall.

"John was a great line manager and a nice man. He was always there for me but like everyone else I couldn't resist getting a gag in.

"One time John asked me to pass him a stapler. So I went to give it to him and then took it back and said: 'To you, to me.'

"He tried to laugh it up but I was sure I saw a tear well up in his eye."

The tribunal continues.

ANNUAL SEAL CULL BEGINS IN CANADA

'Hamshank' Sex pest terrorises butchers

A SERIAL sex pest terrorised a town's butchers shops by screaming 'Hamshank!' at female shop assistants, a court heard.

Weirdo Rodney Smith would visit various meat vendors in Preston and repeat the suggestive word while rubbing his thighs 'vigorously'.

West Lancashire Magistrates Court was told how he'd also attempt to 'fondle' the sausages on display while eyeing up staff.

Unemployed Smith, 42, was handed an Anti Social Behaviour Order banning him from every butcher's shop in Lancashire.

He was also ordered not to cease sending postcards - which simply read 'pork sausage!' to the shop owners in the post.

Bakers

But speaking outside court, he was unrepentant. The singleton said: "This doesn't change anything.

"I'll just go round the bakers instead and say 'floury baps' and 'cream pie' to the ladies. There's no harm in that."

You've been maimed!

AN attempt to scam £250 from You've Been Framed backfired after a man broke both his legs trying to stunt an 'accident'.

Unemployed Colin Barnton thought he'd be able to make a quick buck by sending Harry Hill – the show's presenter – a video of him falling from a step ladder into a garden pond.

Wife Sharon, 39, stood by with a camera as he clambered up the side of his garage.

But the ladder fell the wrong way, sending him flying onto a trampoline.

Patio

Colin, 36, then bounced over his neighbour's wall and onto a cobbled patio – shattering his legs in the process.

To add insult to injury he also suffered a broken nose and cracked teeth after landing facefirst on an upturned garden rake.

Wheelchair-bound Colin told Sunday Sport: "It was obviously a total f***k up, but I'm trying to look on the bright side."

"One plus point is that the video is hilarious, so it might make You've Been Framed Yet."

"I'll probably have to spend the £250 on dental work, mind."

Deaths lead to lonely life

A DJ has decided to live alone after three flatmates KILLED themselves.

Fred Grantham, 25, of Coventry, feels cursed and will live in a caravan ON HIS OWN from now on.

One pal hanged himself, one jumped off a roof and a girl took an overdose.

Builder Fred said: "I didn't see it coming with any of my flatmates."

"I must cast a spell over others which means they want to top themselves."

'I fell out with Rose at breakfast - she ate poor Ivor for lunch'

FELLOW LAG ACCUSES HOUSE OF HORRORS FIEND OF SCOFFING HER GUINEA PIG

SERIAL killer Rose West has claimed her latest victim – an innocent guinea pig called Ivor.

The sicko DEVoured the defenceless creature ALIVE in a vicious revenge attack on fellow HMP Low Newton inmate Ruth Mizer, 63.

Twisted Rose, 55, is currently serving a life sentence at the Durham jail for the torture and murder of ten women with deceased psycho hubby Fred.

And she didn't hesitate to add another notch to her killing bedpost after falling out with devastated Ruth, who murdered her husband Denis in 1983.

But now the hubby slayer, doing a 15-year stretch, is determined to get her own back on Rose by exposing her vile rodent-scoffing antics in Sunday Sport.

By JAMES CRISP

She told our newsdesk: "That bitch ate my guinea pig."

"I shouldn't have been surprised really – think what she did to her own kids, she'd eat a guinea pig no trouble."

"I fell out with Rose at breakfast and by noon poor Ivor was toast."

Ruth, who had a brief lesbian fling with the psychopath, was chatting evil Rose when she blew her top. She explained: "I was saying that my favourite colour was blue and Rose went mental. "She said: 'Red! Red! It's f***ing red you bitch!'"

"Red, you hear me!" "Then she said: 'You just watch it, you whore.'"

"Someone close to your heart will suffer. You f***ing slapper. Red! Red Red!"

Evil

"She stormed out of the canteen without saying another word. I stayed in the common area for another couple of hours then went back to my cell."

"There was Rose with Ivor in her hand. She looked me dead in the eye and dropped him in her evil mouth and swallowed."

"That was it Ivor was gone. I just sank to the floor in tears."

Sadly it is not just Ivor who suffered when Rose swallowed him, but society as a whole.

For Ivor was as a vital part of Ruth's rehabilitation.

She said: "I've had a lot of issues in my life – there's no point denying that.

EVIL: Rose West and (inset) poor guinea pig, Ivor

HEARTBROKEN: Ruth Mizer and (above) HMP Low Newton

"I mean, you don't hit your husband 52 times on the head with an iron if you're well, do you?"

"But Ivor was teaching me to feel again, to love and be loved. And now that bitch West is sh*tting him out with her Weetabix."

"I raised him, I named him, I loved him. I called him Ivor so I could say 'Ivor Guinea Pig' – 'cos I did have - but now he's gone."

"There's nothing to stop me killing again now."

A prison source confirmed Ruth's harrowing tale but admitted it was unlikely that any disciplinary measures would be taken against her.

She said: "It's exactly the sort of crazy sh*t Rose would pull. The guinea pig is gone there's no denying that."

"But short of a stool examination there's no way of linking his disappearance to West."

HELL TOUPEE!

Baldy wrecks mate's life just cos he has hair

A BALD man has ruined the life of his best friend, costing him his job, wife and car – all because his mate has long flowing hair.

Chris Timson, 29, of Manchester, led a three-month campaign of hatred against pal James Grisk, 28, also of Manchester, taking his friend to the brink of a nervous breakdown, a court in the city heard.

Restaurateur Timson went prematurely bald at the age of 27 and garnered the nickname Goodheav after the famous swimmer,

By CHRIS RIVERSIDE

Duncan, and looked on his chum's barnet with green eyes.

Once the last locks had fallen out onto his pillow, Timson decided he had nothing left to lose and began systematically spoiling his mate's life.

First he mocked up pictures on his computer of Grisk cottaging in gents' toilets with tramps and businessmen and sent them to Grisk's boss.

Grisk was sacked from his civil service job for shaming the council and went home to try to explain everything to his wife.

But unbeknown to Grisk, jealous Timson had planted ladies underwear in his jacket pocket.

Once his wife Helen found the racy knickers she hit the roof and told him to leave their home at once.

A broken and unemployed man, Grisk took to living in his car and frequenting internet cafes applying for jobs.

While he was in one such cafe Timson poured petrol over Grisk's Ford Mondeo and watched through a "simple gap in the hedge" as the vehicle burned.

Timson left DNA evidence at the scene and police soon swooped on him at his restaurant, Erimus.

Once in custody Timson confessed everything to police saying that his only motive was his best pal's long cavalier-like hair.

Timson pleaded guilty at arson and criminal damage. Sentencing was adjourned for psychiatric reports.

Nun shoots burglar in bum

A BURGLAR got the shock of his life when a NUN shot him in the bottom with an air rifle.

Petty thief Carl Anderson, 26, broke into St Mary's Convent for the Holy Children, in Fife, late on Friday night but regretted it when Sister Hilda Reynolds, 62, appeared and ploughed a pellet into his behind.

"We do not condone the use of violence," Sister Reynolds said, "but under these circumstances we allow it for our protection."

"We were all in late-night prayers when we heard a noise from our second chapel so I picked up the gun, and crept over to investigate."

"I found Mr Anderson rummaging through our drawers. I shouted out and he turned around and ran, so I aimed at his bottom and shot him down."

But the nuns refused to press charges against Mr Anderson and have invited him to stay with them as a way of repentance.

Mr Anderson said: "Talk about the unexpected. A gun-wielding nun was the last thing I thought I was going to encounter! But it's changed my life."

"My life has gone completely off the rails, and to rob off some nuns is probably the lowest thing I've ever done."

"I will be taking up the sisters' offer to live with them for a while to try and get my life back on track."

complex after hours.

Grainy footage has been unable to identify all of the culprits, but local authorities have launched a full investigation and suspended five workers.

Footage

Suspicions were raised by centre caretaker Peter Baron, 62, who noticed that rooms were not as he had left them the night before.

Fearing he was losing his mind, Peter checked the CCTV footage and couldn't believe his eyes.

He said: "My eyes nearly popped out of their sockets when I copped a load of what was on those tapes."

"There was six girls and four fellas."

"The footage wasn't very clear but I could see cocks flying in all directions – and enough mouths to catch them. It was pretty steamy and I'm not talking about the sauna."

The tape, seen by Sunday Sport, shows:

● A girl enjoying a BUKKAKE session

● A couple doing it DOGGY STYLE on the top board, and

Councillor put mail order bride on EXPENSES!

DO OUR PUBLIC SERVANTS KNOW NO SHAME?

By JAMES CRISP

A COUNCILLOR faces the SACK after putting his Thai mail order bride on his town hall expenses.

Cllr Howard Charnfield – who represents the Detroit ward of Naughtship Borough Council, Wilts – shamelessly tried to scam the taxpayer out of nearly £10,000.

The 55-year-old bachelor – who has more than a decade's experience of local politics – attempted to pass off new missus Fong, 33, as a "miscellaneous" cost.

He was only caught out after the NBC scrutiny committee decided to examine expense claims at random – and discovered Charnfield's alleged deception on Tuesday.

Last night corrupt Charnfield – an independent councillor who claimed for international phone calls, plane tickets, taxi, visa and internet introduction bureau costs – tried vainly to defend his shocking lies.

Duties

The businessman and told our man: "Listen to me young man."

"As a councillor I have to dedicate a large amount of my time to evening meetings and even have to take time off work to fulfil my duties."

"As such I have so little time I have been unable to take a wife. After much thought and deliberation I decided to plump for the mail order option.

"It saved me a lot of time – time I dedicated to fighting for my constituents. And after all, a happy councillor is a good councillor."

"All I asked in return was fair remuneration for the money I had to spend. My conscience is clear and I am confident I will be entirely exonerated."

Leader of the council Richard Wallock said: "These are serious allegations which we will investigate before commenting more fully."

"However it is fair to say that should Cllr Charnfield be found to be at fault, his position will become untenable."

The scandal broke in the same week it was announced that employment minister Tony McNulty will be formally investigated by Commons authorities for claiming a second home allowance for a house where his parents live.

SUNDAY Sport SAYS...

IS THERE no end to the greed of our so-called public servants?

The shameless actions of Councillor Charnfield suggest there is only one answer – NO!

To use the taxpayer's cash to shack up with some skirt from the Orient is a shocking abuse of the public purse.

Something must be done before we all end up shelling out so politicians can get their end away.

And charmless, corrupt Charnfield should be given the boot!

The women – three blondes, a redhead and two brunettes, all shamelessly ignore the signs on the wall saying NO HEAVY PETTING as they neck on with their male friends.

The leisure centre workers show an in-depth knowledge of sexual positions trying out The Flying Cat, Humpty Dumpty and the tricky Row Your Boat manoeuvres.

Mr Baron said: "I got all hot and flustered watching the CCTV footage, not because of the sex, of which there was a lot, but because of the flagrant disregard for the rules."

"Everyone involved at some point broke the cardinal rules of a swimming baths: no running, no bombing and no diving in the shallow end.

"A one point the naked gang all take it in turns to bomb into the pool!"

"Watching it nearly sent me mad."

Rules

"There is a marathon game of Chase Me around the whole complex, which involved a LOT of running."

"The sex I can forgive – it's only natural to want to make the beast with two backs – but the breaking of important leisure centre rules by employees can only mean the sack."

Staff were being tight lipped about the affair when our man put it to them before yesterday's (Saturday, March 28) shift started.

Mr Baron added: "These youngsters were doing God know what, and spurring God knows what all around the place, and they didn't even tidy up after themselves."

"These lads and lasses are no better than they ought to be."

BLC Bosses said that the centre would be open as usual until a full investigation is finished.

He said: "It was the most amazing and yet at the time most crushingly boring execution I have ever seen."

"I heaved a sigh of relief when he finished, but then he started that bloody Henry the Eighth song."

"At first I admired his pluck and courage but by the end of Hallelujah I found him intensely irritating."

"But his executioners simply waited – unlike Grimble, time was on THEIR side."

Grimble was finally executed at 9.02am and pronounced dead ten minutes later.

A source at the Kentucky Governor's office told Sunday Sport: "Despite the delay, this was a successful, professional execution."

"Ask anyone, the prisoner's skin and hair did not catch fire, there was no screaming or burning."

"In fact it is my understanding there was singing at the execution by the condemned himself, so strange as it may seem, he must have been exhilarated at the chance to atone for his grievous sins."

"Maybe if you guys in England had the death penalty, you'd still be a world power – who knows?"

A WOMAN whose breasts whistle is offering £15,000 to any doctor in the world to make them stop.

Vera Drinkworth, 50, of Guisborough, Cleveland, suffers from a ailment known as Mammarius Musculus or Singing Tits, which affects one in every million women.

The condition is so rare that medical professionals have told Vera that nothing can be done about her tuneless Bristols.

But this hasn't stopped the former Butlin's redcoat from trying to end her years of taunts and abuse when it blows a bit of a gale.

She said: "It only started when me tits were fully formed. One day when I were 23 I was out at the beach near Seal Sands.

"I stopped dead in me tracks thinking there were a camping kettle right there in me chest, but there weren't - it were simply me love globes.

"I just want the whistling to stop. Please can any medical man, even a shaman or a witch doctor, help me stop me knockers playing a tune when it's windy."

Lions and fighters and bears!

SICK Canadians are pitting bears against lions in fights to the death.

New evidence points to a worrying return to the twisted bloodsport - which was beloved by prospectors during the Klondike Rush in the late 19th Century.

Drunken gold hunters would bet their fortunes on fearsome battles between native bears and specially imported African lions.

Records show the bears usually won and the practice eventually fell out of use - until now.

Mounties have reported finding the corpses of several lions and one bear in woodland pits in the Yukon.

And that has led to fears that the 'entertainment' is on the way back.

A source at the governor's office said: "We will not tolerate bear vs lion fights, be it as part of a reenactment or just for fun."

Lottery winner is dead unlucky

A SCALLY lottery winner tried to improve his uncouth ways in a Swiss finishing school but accidentally checked into a suicide clinic, an inquest heard.

Terry Kidd, 45, scooped £2.6 million on the Lotto, but felt that years of living on a sink estate had given him bad manners.

The former shelf stacker felt that with wealth behind him he could and mix with the elite near his mansion in Sandbanks, Hampshire.

So Terry, a former amateur boxing champion, booked what he thought was a £10,000 course at a Swiss finishing school in Geneva.

But he had actually booked himself a one-way ticket to the next life – he'd paid for an assisted suicide at a Dignitas clinic.

Terry's sister Tanya, 43, of Manchester said: "Our Terry was a dreamer. He always said that one day he was gonna be posh."

"When he won the lottery I knew the first thing he would do was try and be the lord of the manor with a monocle and spaniels."

"Little did he know he'd end up dead in a clinic."

Verdict: Misadventure.

Mobile librarian 'sold crack'

A MOBILE library selling crack cocaine has got Wiltshire villages addicted to the deadly stimulant.

The service normally visits remote hamlets in the county to provide a reading service for isolated residents.

But evil death peddler Edith Salmon, 56, started offering "pick me ups" to her elderly customers, High Wiltshire Crown Court heard on Friday.

The former post mistress would give out rocks of crack with the latest bestsellers and wait for the highly-concentrated cocaine to take hold of the borrowers.

When the mother-of-two returned to the villages the following week, residents would be desperate for more.

Charles Burlington, prosecuting, said: "Evil came to the village in the form of a dowdy librarian."

The villagers all trusted Edith Salmon to lend books to their mothers and wives and she betrayed that trust.

"Soon their addictions got so out of hand that the mobile library was visiting villages two and three times a day, which aroused suspicion."

The trial continues.

Meet The Apprentice applicants who didn't even get an interview

ERIC BROUGHTON:

BROUGHTON, 45, describes himself as Britain's most visionary entrepreneur, although he has unsuccessfully applied to go on Dragons Den a record 12 times!

He was hoping that his bizarre schemes would bag him a spot on The Apprentice but he didn't make it past the first hurdle.

In his application, Broughton said: "You've heard of thinking outside the box. Well f*** the box. I take the box, turn it inside out, shit in it, set it alight, then smoke the ashes. And that's before breakfast."

Sadly, his business career hasn't been as dynamic and Broughton has been made bankrupt every year since 1981.

Among his demented inventions are the inflatable garage, designed for people to park their cars safely and securely anywhere. The use of a highly-toxic plastic put paid to that plan.

Then there was the self-delivering pizza, which he would cook in the back of a large van before firing it out of the back at the house of the customers who had ordered it.

But perhaps his most unusual business idea landed him in the nick for six months when it went horribly wrong — monkey au pairs!

Broughton claimed to have trained a dozen shaved chimps to safely look after children. But the business collapsed when one of them took an 18-month old up into a tree and held it hostage for four days.

BILL DIPPER:

THIS pensioner would, at 74, have been the oldest-ever contestant on The Apprentice, and the show's first-ever homeless candidate.

He's been living in a tent which he made himself from denim since 1986 but despite that, he claims to be Britain's most entrepreneurial tramp, with a personal fortune of almost £280.

The money is hidden in a variety of locations around Suffolk, which Bill claims are known only to him and stored inside his head.

THE Apprentice is back on our screens we'll spend every Wednesday for the next three months sitting back and laughing at the idiots who think they're worthy of becoming Sir Alan Sugar's newest trainee.

Over the years, the show has thrown up no end of talentless, ego-fuelled maniacs who you wouldn't trust with a bag of crisps, let alone a multi-million pound business.

Who could forget Syed Ahmed ordering 100 chickens to make

He has earned the cash from over 20 years of busking, playing unusual rhythmic music performed on a metal bowl filled with rice and dried peas.

When asked why he felt he could have gone on to become Sir Alan Sugar's next right hand man, Bill launched into an impassioned rant, punctuated with a series of grunts along with one or two small farts.

He said: "I knew a man like that man once, a tall man; knew how to take care of himself, kept his cuffs clean and his shirt tucked in."

"There's nothing that damned Sugar could teach me that I couldn't teach myself with a digital watch, a quart of brandy and 20 minutes lying in a bath with my head under the water."

Bill failed the audition process during a mocked-up task which involved delivering a sales pitch for expensive works of art. He failed when he pissed himself and put his face through a canvas.

LIZ TROTTER:

THIS 34-year old business analyst describes herself as "a business dinosaur, but not as in 'old-fashioned', more as in 'a giant creature that could eat a horse with a single swallow'. A winner in other words."

Liz claims that she has mastered a special kind of yoga that allows every day to last for 28 hours instead of the regular 24, giving her more time to be a success in the big, bad world of business.

Through her consultancy business she claims to have single-handedly kept Britain out of total bankruptcy and she has a five-point recovery plan for the nation tattooed on her inner thigh.

She'd have almost certainly been a hot favourite to win The Apprentice until some grim facts about her appeared just hours before the show was about to begin.

It emerged that she had an ASBO taken out against her

By ANDY DAWSON
100 pizzas, or Katie Hopkins, who bottled out when the going got tough?

Then there was Michael Sophocles, who tried to find customers for his Ferrari hire business in the middle of a run-down fruit and veg market.

As the new series kicked off this week, it looks as though there'll be plenty of jumped-up numpties with big ideas and tiny brains who think they can cut in 2008 for repeatedly masturbating in the middle of the night in her BMW convertible — after more than 15 neighbours complained about the noise.

A neighbour, who wished to remain anonymous, told us: "It was horrendous and happened about five nights a week, always at 4am."

"It was just her, but she would use so much erm, equipment that it sounded like she was felling a tree with a chainsaw. I don't know where she found the energy."

Liz was dismissed from the line-up the day before filming began after she planned to take no clothes into the apartment but two suitcases filled with sex toys instead.

BARBARA BUNNY-FEELER:

POSH aristocrat's daughter Barbara claimed she would win The Apprentice using the philosophy that has guided her through life so far — "believe entirely in the wisdom of rabbits".

The 37-year-old has never had a proper job and spends her days inside a giant hedge maze in the grounds of her rich parents' home in Kent. She is accompanied by her menagerie of 300 male rabbits, who she describes as her "lovers, husbands, and spiritual guides".

Barmy Barbara missed out on a place on the show after she told producers that she would only take part if she could bring her six favourite bunnies on all of the tasks with her.

She said she would carry them around in a special raincoat with compartments sewn into it for all of the creatures to sit in.

Producers dismissed her application when she told them that the rabbits regularly speak to her and that she would be consulting them on every business decision she would make during the show.

Additionally, she insisted that, if she won the show, she would only be able to work from Sugar's mustard. But what about the ones who didn't even make it as far as Sugar's luxury apartment or the dreaded boardroom itself?

Here we reveal the stories of the contenders who were so shocking that they were fired BEFORE the show had even begun.

Just who was the potential Apprentice who got ASBO'd for jizzing off in her convertible?

And who literally tried to kill his granny for a shot at the top of the business ladder?

Read on to find out!

inside the giant maze in her garden and that Sir Alan Sugar would also be required to relocate there.

Also, every one of the rabbits would also need to be employed on £20,000-a-year salaries, something that Sugar would be unlikely to agree to.

MARC JASPER:

IN his application and audition for the show, the driven 22-year old go-getter showed all the desire and grit that is required to become Sir Alan Sugar's apprentice.

But now he is behind bars, on remand after being charged with attempted murder just days before the show kicked off.

In his application to become a candidate, Jasper repeatedly stated that winning the show was the most important thing in his life and that he would do anything to come out on top, even killing his own granny.

Sadly, he forgot to take his medication for paranoid schizophrenia and ended up attacking his grandmother, vowing to present her corpse to Sugar in the boardroom.

His gran managed to escape the attack after knocking her grandson out with an oversized vase and he was arrested as he came round.

Before he carried out the attack, Jasper had sent a personal letter to Sir Alan, written in green crayon, in which he told the Amstrad boss of his horrifying plan.

The letter revealed how Jasper would kill his granny for a shot at the big time, explaining that he'd present a piece of her corpse to him every week throughout the show.

Instead of being the multi-millionaire's right hand man, the tragic wannabe is now probably the jailhouse wife of some burly murderer.

Mango chutney test traps paedos

NEW research has shown that PAEDOPHILES can't eat mango chutney.

Startling academic tests have revealed that nonces are unable to bring the sweet Indian preserve to their lips because of a genetic malfunction.

The same part of their DNA which propels them to abuse kids causes them to retch at the mere smell of the popular poppadum accompaniment.

Boffins at the University of South Texas found the missing link when they were testing to see what differences there were between paedophiles and normal people.

Researcher Jim Lavelle, 50, said: "What we found is staggering. Mango chutney makes paedophiles ill. "Therefore, it may be possible to use a mango chutney test to determine if a man will abuse kids."

Alf Harris, 48 (above), chairman of the Curry Union of North Tyneside (C.U.N.T.), said: "This just proves what we already know — curry-lovers are real men and not nonces."

Shotgun row ends in stabbing

TWO people are facing jail sentences after an argument over who got to ride shotgun in a car ended in bloodshed.

Steven Rawlings, 23, was left with severe stab wounds to his left leg after he refused to sit in the back seat of one of cars belonging to a mate.

Rawlings (above), plus John Adams, 24, and 23-year-old Rick Reddings — all call centre workers from Tollington, Lincolnshire — had left a local cinema on the night of the attack.

Even though Rawlings shouted "shotgun" to win himself a front seat, Reddings refused to go in the back, Tollington Crown Court heard.

When neither would back down, Reddings ordered driver Adams to "f*** him up" and he drew a knife and stabbed Rawlings in the thigh.

Adams and Reddings deny aggravated assault with a deadly weapon. The case continues.

A PUNTER enjoys a fag outside the new bar dedicated to evil Fritzl

YOU BAR-STAR!

Sicko entrepreneur opens Fritzl-themed beer cellar in London

By NEIL GOODWIN

PROTESTORS have slammed a new Josef Fritzl-themed bar where "every night is a lock in!"

Owner Bill Ashton reckons tourists will flock to his novelty CELLAR boozery but campaigners say he's simply trying to cash-in on the worldwide notoriety of a man who set a new benchmark for evil.

Fritzl, 73, will spend the rest of his life behind bars after he fathered seven kids with his own daughter while he kept her locked in a cellar for 24 years.

Fritzl's Basement Bar in North Woodford, London, is emblazoned with pictures of the grinning madman.

And there are also sick signs reading "lock in every night" and "children welcome".

Disgrace

Helen Ainscough, head of a local campaign group, told Sunday Sport: "It's a disgrace. We don't want our neighbourhood to become synonymous with an evil, murdering RAPIST."

"The place seems to be busy, so shame on the people who drink there."

Meanwhile, Mr Ashton, 50, who opened his doors this weekend, says he's doing nothing wrong.

He declared: "It's a bit unfair."

"There are bars devoted to people like John Lennon, Oscar Wilde and the Queen, so why not Fritzl?"

"He's just as well-known, isn't he?"

The dad-of-three added: "There are some really nice touches in our beer cellar, like HANDCUFFS next to the urinals and a distinct lack of windows. It's a novelty night out, and so far punters seem to be loving it."

BROWN GREETES UN BOSS BAN KI-MOON

Ramsay fan butchered by abused apprentices

A CHEF who modelled himself on Gordon Ramsay has been stabbed to death by his apprentices.

Ethan Grimes, 35, who ran the Buffalo Beef Bites diner in Utah, USA, was found butchered and hanging in the deep freeze of his eatery in a real-life kitchen nightmare.

Cops revealed he had three kitchen knives in his back and a meat cleaver had been used to slice the top of his head clean off.

Six kitchen workers and five front-of-house staff were arrested and taken in for questioning on Friday evening.

Sources close to the foul-mouth cook reckon it was just a matter of time before he met a gruesome end.

Brad Hodge, who trained as a sous-chef under Grimes three years ago, said: "I quit because of that prick."

"He was such an arrogant guy and he was infatuated with Ramsay. Every time we did something he'd scream 'that's not how Gordon does it, do you think a chef like Gordon would try and fob his customers off with this'. Then he'd throw whatever we made in our faces and tell us to start again."

"He had a mouth like a sewer and it was always f***ing this and f***ing that."

"I knew one oday he'd push someone too far and, to be honest I'm glad he's dead."

Cop Wyatt Gellar was first on the scene at the restaurant and said: "It was a bloodbath."

BRITAIN'S SWEARIEST COLUMNIST

HOLY SH*+!

Sabbath banter with the UK's only Tourette's vicar

IT'S Sunday, a day for quiet reflection and prayer. And who better to spend it with than Britain's first — and only — Tourette's vicar, the Reverend Edward Regis? Despite being born with Tourette's — a condition that forces the cleric to swear — Rev Eddie fulfilled his dream of becoming a minister. He's a man with a lot to say, despite his affliction, and is a true soldier of Christ. Every week he calls our religious correspondent James Crisp to discuss the world's events. And Sunday Sport made a vow to publish his Godly views — uncensored and uncut! We hope and pray that you learn something.

Don't let our Government make a right Royal mess

ISN'T tradition a wonderful thing. Britches bitches! In fact, it is one of the few things this country can still do well. Sodomite squidgy tampon lez-swizzle! So I'm a little concerned that the government seem to be discussing changing the way the Royal Family works. Meddlesome minge-bath tool-back natterjack! It seems The Queen and Gordon have been, shag-fist ironman, discussing changes to the Act of Settlement. Seditious sex-talk dirty pants! Change What that means is the rules will change, letting a Royal married to a Catholic become King or Queen! Horrendous crivens privy! Imagine what could happen next — a Catholic monarch. Papal protractor obtuse-angle! Now I'm not against that idea per se. Whorish strumpet romish rectal prolapse tarts! But it can't be good for the country as a whole. Superf*** mika captain scarlett! After all last time I checked our national religion was the Church of ENGLAND. Gurning burn-stake witch fest f*** tittie! Germans And we've got quite enough Germans ruling us without the Pope getting involved as well. Gunpowderplot! So why not let sleeping dogs lie, eh? That way the good old C of E can keep on doing it's "thang" Thongo-bongo stool-sucker! We're not all bad. Alterboy lick-trousers! At least with us you can wear a johnny without going to Hell! Beelzebub f***-finger trimble meister trombone!

Britton is ruled by money!

WHAT A shame that Fern Britton is leaving This Morning. Chubby love-doll! Fern and Philip Scholfield always seemed such a happy couple. In fact, I thought they were married until I realised my mistake. Ganja whore bitch treacle! It's been reported that Fern was upset Phil was earning more money than her. Turding muffball choked cat. Oh dear — it's that old sin envy coming up again, isn't it? Apparently Fern is now on her way to the Beeb. Knicker-sticker lovepole! But she'll learn all the money in the world can't make up for the loss of a friendship like she had with Phil. Gastric c***les !

I love to get down to a bit of Ballet

SPANDAU Ballet are the latest band to reform. Mascara girl-boy! I bet you didn't think us vicars took an interest in popular music. Adam ant electro genitals! But I can assure you as men of the cloth we like to get as down and dirty on the dancefloor as much as the next man — or even woman. Flatulent sh*t eating kraut romantick. I was always a bit of a fan of Kraftwerk back in my vicar training days. Robot machine masturbate! But there were lots of songs that got everyone at vicar school boogie about. Come on Eileen was a particular favourite. Gaytalk raspberry cumface! But for me there's one standout 80s track — ABCs Poison Arrow. Aswad! In fact, there's only one way that song could be improved. And that's if it had had something about Jesus in it! Rio whorebaby ghost-buster!

Brain doctor is clucking barmy!

A TWISTED doctor faces life behind bars after carrying out bizarre brain experiments on tramps.

Dr Martin Hammill's home in Auckland, New Zealand, was raided and 14 homeless men and women were found in his basement where he had been operating on them.

Hammill (above), 45, force-fed the hobos meths for days until their brains became completely pickled and almost shut down.

Then he would open up their skulls and inject what he claimed to be memories of chickens he'd isolated from hens' brains.

If they failed to make a full recovery, he'd drive the tramps as far as 100 miles away and leave them for dead in woods, some clucking as they passed away.

A police spokesman said: "He has written hundreds of pages of notes on his experiments and seems convinced brain-damaged people can recover if they have hens' memories injected into their brains."

"He says they'll go through the rest of life only remembering some eggs they'd laid or having rough sex with a cock, but believes that would be better than being brain dead."

Flower show grans 'tried to kill each other'

TWO grannies have been accused of trying to poison each other in a bid to win a flower arranging contest.

Jean Agis, 69, and Linda Welk, 71, were "desperate" to triumph in the annual Hogmonkton Blooms contest, North Trowbridge Crown Court heard.

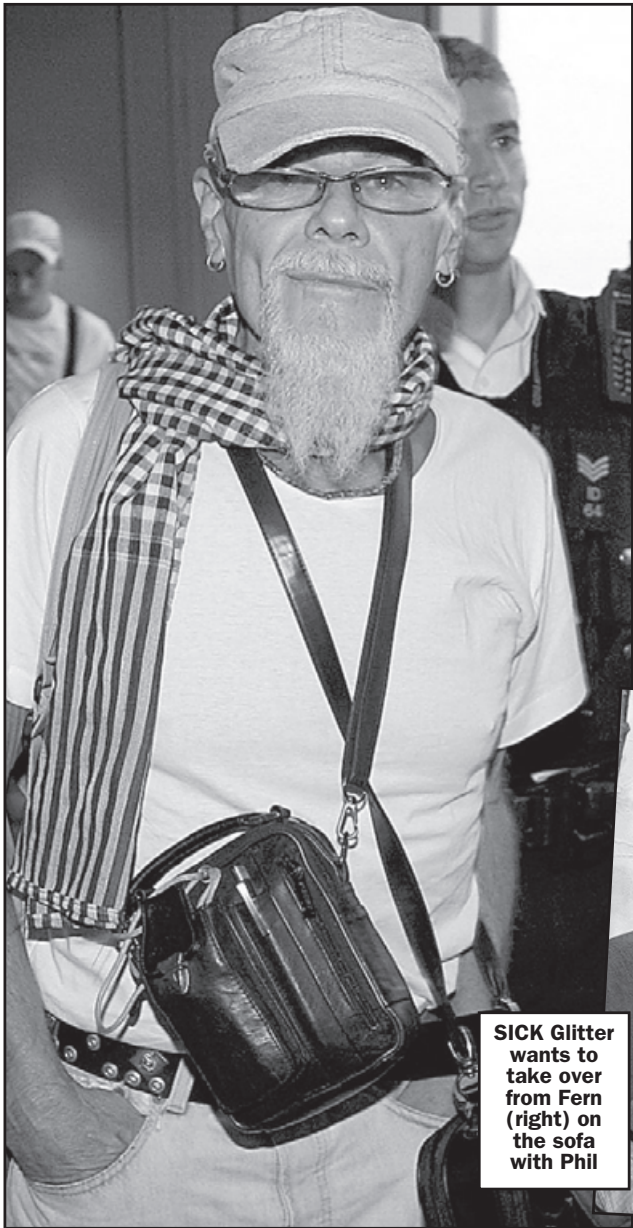

The retired widows have been embroiled in a fierce rivalry for ten years. But their mutual hatred went too far when they spiked each other's tea with weed-killer the night before last month's contest at a WI meeting.

Ralph Madonna, counsel for the prosecution, told the court that fortunately neither woman was seriously hurt.

He said: "Both ladies were violently sick and promptly accused each other of plotting to murder the other. After their stomachs were pumped, they made their suspicions known to police, resulting in their appearance here today."

The case was adjourned for legal advice and both ladies indicated that they will plead not guilty to any charges.

GLITTER: I'LL BE PHIL'S RIGHT HAND

Deluded paedo tells ITV chiefs he'll be Fern Britton's This Morning replacement

By JAMES CRISP

GLAM rock paedo Gary Glitter wants to replace Fern Britton as Phillip Schofield's new sidekick on This Morning.

The hated NONCE, 65, reckons the ITV1 show is the ideal vehicle to catapult him back into the nation's heart.

And Glitter, real name Paul Gadd, has instructed his agent to do whatever it takes to get him alongside Phil every weekday morning.

A source close to the sequin-worshipping pervert said: "Glitter is trying to get back in the limelight."

"When he heard Fern had quit This Morning the deluded child molester was THRILLED. He's genuinely convinced he is the ideal man to take over."

"He even reckons that as soon as bosses see his work they will put him alongside Phil on the quiz show Mr & Mrs."

"He thinks that if he gets Fern's old job the sky will be the limit. That's what he keeps saying, anyway."

"This Morning, Mr & Mrs — then who knows? Maybe Dancing On Ice, Family Fortunes or even Are You Smarter Than A Ten-Year-Old?"

Opportunistic Glitter's foolish DREAMS were sparked by the news that 51-year-old Fern was quitting the hugely-popular show.

Speculation has raged that Phil and Fern have fallen out over his larger salary.

But last night an ITV insider said: "Glitter doesn't stand a chance. We're thinking of someone like Melanie Sykes, actually."

Outrage

But Glitter's shamless plot has sparked outrage among anti-kiddie-fiddler groups and parents who are SICKENED by the thought of Glitter being beamed into their living rooms.

Terry Furie, chairman of nonce-hating organisation Hey! Paedo! Leave Our Kids Alone! vowed to boycott ITV if they hired the TWISTED singer.

The 49-year-old said: "My wife watches This Morning and sometimes so do the kids. I'm not having Glitter looking at my kids — even if it is through a telly."

"The only way I'd watch Glitter on the gogglebox was if they broadcast his execution live!"

SICK Glitter wants to take over from Fern (right) on the sofa with Phil

Protestors to burn Horne & Corden effigies

THOUSANDS of Britons will be uniting next month and getting behind a single, important cause — setting fire to effigies of feckless telly duo Horne and Corden.

The fat/thin "comedy" partners are the stars of Gavin And Stacey but the nation's turned against them as people realise how wafer-thin their talents are.

After a toe-curlingly embarrassing stint hosting the Brit Awards, the pair have gone on to launch their own wretched sketch show and star in the movie Lesbian Vampire Killers.

One critic said of the film: "I felt as though I had been assaulted. It's hard to believe that a worse film has ever or will ever be made anywhere at any level. Why can't these so-called 'men' be locked up?"

By ANDY DAWSON

It has been reported that some cinemas have even erected perspex in front of the screen to prevent punters from hurling food and drink at it during its worst moments.

Although it is only broadcast on BBC Three, the Horne And Corden Sketch Show has enraged enough people to lead to the burning of dummies of the pair at 16 locations around Britain over the Easter weekend.

Organiser Eric Tindale will be personally setting alight 12-foot high replicas of the dull duo at an event in Brighton and he's as excited as a kid at Christmas.

He says: "Jesus rose at Easter but these two talentless little shitehawks must never come back. I'm only sorry that we're not burning them for real!"

Man killed for gay dog jibe!

A MAN has been battered to death after he told a dog owner "Your pooch looks gay!"

Unfortunately for John Sharpeton, 28, the owner of the Chihuahua was a professional cage fighter!

The incident happened in Kingway Park in central Detroit, USA, in broad daylight and was witnessed by several horrified passersby.

Brute Mike Davies, 32, had been exercising his beloved four-year-old pet Mitzy when they were approached by Mr Sharpeton.

The single factory worker, who had been drinking heavily with friends, decided to take have a little fun and yelled: "Hey, your dog looks gay, you bender!"

Davies, a mixed martial arts master and veteran of 30 professional bouts, took exception to the comments and eyewitnesses have told how Davies unleashed a flurry of punches and elbows.

Sharpeton is thought to have died instantly after suffering massive head trauma when his head hit a rock as he was knocked over.

Davies was arrested at the scene and later charged with manslaughter.

He's due to appear before a court tomorrow.

Madonna con dwarf arrested

A BLACKED-UP dwarf has been arrested in Lilongwe Airport, Malawi attempting to be adopted by Madonna.

Self styled dwarf around town Jimbabi Umbopo, 23, used boot polish to disguise his white skin colour and wore a nappy to try and fool the Like A Virgin star.

Madonna, 50, is in the country to adopt a second child and unemployed Umbopo saw a chance to escape the impoverished African state.

But the ex circus performer didn't even get to see the Material Girl as he was nicked under a bizarre Malawian law before she arrived.

The country forbids the impersonation of children, a crime punishable with a five year jail term.

Umbopo is currently on remand awaiting trial.

TARGET: Goodwin (inset) is just one of the targets of Hill (above) and his band of anarchists

VIGILANTE TERROR GROUP'S COCK 'N' BALLS THREAT TO CITY F***WITS

By JOHN WARD

A VICIOUS band of anarchists are threatening to BRAND bankers foreheads with COCK AND BALLS as punishment for wrecking the British economy.

The vigilante group — who are NOT thought to be responsible for vandalising former RBS boss Fred Goodwin's house this week — are stepping up their campaign.

In a chilling message posted on an internet site — just one week before next Thursday's G20 summit — the group said they will scar the faces of top bankers who have profited from the banking collapse.

Terrifying

One crazed vigilante in a balaclava poses with a BRANDING IRON and delivers a terrifying warning to millionaire city fat cats.

He said in a deranged and croaky voice: "Beware bankers of Britain."

"We are coming to get you. You got rich while destroying our economy."

"Now you get fat and live in luxury while most decent Brits face years of poverty."

"You will pay — and if you don't pay back your obscene bonuses, we will make you pay in a different way."

"We will come to your house and BRAND you with our searing hot COCK AND BALLS IRON."

"So everyone will know that you are the dicks who f***ed this country up."

Earlier this week former Royal Bank of Scotland boss Fred Goodwin's house and car were smashed up. He was targeted because he refused to hand back any of his £700,000-a-year pension — despite being blamed for bringing the bank to its knees.

Violent

The group, Vigilantes Against Greed (VAG), have not claimed responsibility for the vandalism but they have warned that the attacks will become more violent.

VAG leader, Peter Hill, 26, from Sudbury West London, said: "This is a war for freedom."

"We have been oppressed by greedy fat cats who have got rich while making so many people poor."

"Well know they will pay for their greed. This is cock and balls karma coming to get them."

Chinese flashmob executed!

A FLASHMOB in China ended in 42 arrests and seven executions.

Now human rights groups have slammed the communist government for their heavy-handed response to the innocent event.

Flashmobs are when people agree over the internet to appear in a large group at the same time. In the West, they frequently indulge in horse-play such as dancing — as featured in the current T Mobile advert.

But the Chinese have strict laws against large public gatherings due to their oppressive commie rulers and reports from dissident groups within Beijing have already compared the ruthless put down to the brutal massacre of pro-democracy demonstrators in Tiananmen Square in 1989.

News of the flashmob arrests and the firing squad executions of the ringleaders has been ruthlessly suppressed in China.

But our source managed to send this message: "It was horrible, violent, ruthless. China may have looked like a nice place during the Olympics but it ain't all shits and giggles."

THE Muff Hunter has set her sights on Foxy Knoxy (below)

Muff Hunter makes daring escape bid after 'devastating' Foxy news

STEVE McQueen in the movie classic

THE predatory butch dyke who wants Amanda "Foxy Knoxy" Knox's chuff has made a daring bid for freedom emulating scenes from The Great Escape.

In the week when the survivors of Stalag Luft III met to celebrate the 65th anniversary of the escape bolt at the former prisoner of war camp in Poland, The Muff Hunter, real name Giovanna Gianni, 29, an inmate at Capenne Prison made a copycat escape attempt.

The Muff Hunter found out some weeks ago that accused killer Amanda Knox, 21, has been sending love notes to her co-accused Raffaele Sollecito, 24, which made her flip out.

The pair are currently on trial in Perugia for the murder of British exchange student Meredith Kercher, both deny all charges.

A prison insider said: "News of Foxy's notes to Raffaele soon spread around the jail and like a domino effect it was only a matter of time before Giovanna found out.

By CHRIS RIVERSIDE

"When she was told, you could hear the animal scream she let out all around the prison. It was like the leader of a pack of wolves summoning the rest to the kill."

The 20-stone rug muncher, along with her gang The Muffettes, copied the escape plan of our brave RAF heroes in 1944.

Plot

Muffy, as she's known to her coterie, masterminded the digging of three tunnels out of Capenne Prison, Perugia, whose names differed slightly from those in the original plot.

The flying ace and ski champion didn't follow the original names of the RAF's burrows of escape Tom, Dick and Harry.

Instead, the woman with an eye for the lady garden called hers: C*nt, Clit and Fanny.

The Muffettes under the careful observation of their fearless leader shifted approximately three tons of soil just under a fortnight.

They were all set to make their way under the fence on a moonless night in civilian clothes they had bought for cigarettes in the jail, when disaster struck.

Unbeknownst to Muff Hunter, her fierce rival on the wing The Clit Kicker, real name Arianna Ferzoco, 31, had got wind of the plans and tipped off the guards.

A guard, who wished to remain anonymous, said: "Even though we knew of Muff Hunter's plans we didn't raid any cells we wanted to catch them at it red handed."

Armed

"Muff Hunter's face when she came out was a picture. She was expecting freedom and she got 50 armed prison guards, it looked like the last scene of Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid."

A Capenne Prison spokesman said that a full investigation had been launched it what happened but confirmed that Giovanna Gianni was involved in the attempted break out.

Farmer to open foot and mouth theme park

A FARMER has come under fire over plans to open a theme park devoted to the foot and mouth outbreak.

Punters can recreate the disease that decimated the countryside, with kids allowed to shoot pretend cows in the head before burning them.

Giles Rushmore, 48, has converted 50 acres of his South Yorks farm land and hopes to be open in time for the busy Easter holidays.

Angry locals say it's an insult to Rushmore's fellow farmers who lost their livelihoods during the outbreak. But he says it'll give the local economy a boost.

The dad-of-three says: "We've got a load of cardboard cows and kids will be able to shoot them with a bolt gun. There's also a big pit we've dug out and after the kids drag their cows and throw them in the pit, they can stand back and watch as they slowly burn."

Local environmental health officials say they may close down Foot & Mouth Land if Rushmore goes ahead with his plan to hand out a jar containing the disease to every visitor.

Tit ad sparks mass riot!

A BIRD watching meeting promising BRITAIN'S BEST TITS ended in a riot after hundreds of men showed up hoping to see breasts.

The Twitcher group ran the ad alongside a scantily clad model in a local paper hoping to attract new members to their meetings.

But it backfired when dozens of men showed up expecting to see naked women.

Angry builder Freddie Bracket, 21, said: "We were led to believe it was going to be strippers."

"When it turned out to be Blue tits we demanded our cash back but the little specky geeks weren't having any of it."

"So it got messy," Terence Winger, the Twitcher group chairman, said: "The ad was a bit of a joke. Anyone who didn't realise that is obviously a moron."

Karen Matthews ... THE OPERA!

THE story of Karen Matthews and the kidnap and false imprisonment of her own nine-year-old daughter Shannon is to be turned into an opera.

La Kareno is currently being cast for a launch at La Scala in Rome, Italy, to avoid any backlash in this country.

The production will try to make sense of the hiding of little Shannon by Matthews, 32, and her accomplice Michael Donovan, 39.

The show's opener, which loosely translates to It's Grim Up North, tries to reveal the harsh realities behind Matthews' Dewsbury childhood.

A rousing solo depicting the story of motherhood, entitled Cucina Macino or Baby Machine, is at first sung by Matthews' character, hotly tipped to be noted opera star Olivia Belesso.

But then the whole cast join in with all performers dancing and singing through the mocked-up streets of Florence which has hints of the sandstone which dominates the West Yorkshire landscape.

Shannon's character sings the tear-jerker Drug Me, Chain Me, But You'll Never Win which, in a break from operatic tradition, is sung entirely in English to show the story's roots.

A La Scala insider said: "Most opera-goers in Italy don't know about the kidnapping of Shannon Matthews, but they do know a lot about watching great shows."

"And let me tell you, La Kareno looks like being the hit of 2009. It's got everything — the simpleton in Donovan, the ugly buffoon in Karen and the light shining in a dour, bleak and futureless world — little Shannon."

"For me Shannon's character steals the show. She's never spoken to the media and this production gives her a voice for the first time."

BARACK Obama has been forced into a HUMILIATING climb-down over the Clown porngate

By JAMES CRISP

scandal that has paralysed his young presidency.

The 47-year-old has finally handed back predecessor George W Bush's TREASURED COLLECTION of Big Top Bongo after almost three months.

Weakness

Seasoned White House-watcher Hank Mandible said: "This is an embarrassing sign of weakness from the president.

"If he gives in on clown porn, who's to say he won't give in to TERRORISTS?"

Despite Dubya, 62, begging for the return of the valuable blueys, which feature porn stars in full clown make-up and took him more than 20 years to collect, the president refused.

White House sources claim Obama, whose aides discovered the rare GASH CACHE on top of a wardrobe in the presidential master bedroom, cracked under pressure from his wife Michelle.

Sunday Sport told last week how the 45-year-old First Lady slapped a sex ban on Barack and banished him from the marital bed.

She was "furious" that her hubby ignored calls from Dubya's dad

CHEERS, BUDDY: Bush is delighted to have his stash back

George, civil rights activist Rev Jesse Jackson and British PM Gordon Brown to return the GRUMBLE.

But the final straw was when the president started spending more time with the jazz mags and skin flicks than with her.

Missus

And last night the leader of the free world told his missus the grot was going back to its rightful owner — much to the delight of the Bush camp.

An aide to the former president said yesterday: "Finally common sense has won out.

"A man's property is a man's property, that is enshrined in our constitutional law.

"This is a win-win situation, the president has his pornos back and the Democrats have got a BLOODY NOSE."

A source close to Obama confirmed the clown porn would be returned and added: "This was merely a little joke that got tragically out of control."

ASTON KILLA!

Ripper is a Villa fans just 'cos Martin O'Neill went to his trial

PURE EVIL: Peter Sutcliffe

THE evil Yorkshire Ripper has confessed that he's a supporter of Aston Villa.

Mass-murderer Peter Sutcliffe pledged his allegiance to The Villans after their manager Martin O'Neill attended every day of his trial back in the 80s.

Sicko Sutcliffe, 62, even owns a replica sky blue and claret shirt and he longs to be on the outside so that he can attend just one match at Villa Park.

Reviled

O'Neill, 57, did not complete his degree in criminology but has a keen interest in the courts and their workings.

He sat through Sutcliffe's trial and also attended some of the most high-profile cases of the last 30 years, including the recent retrial of Barry George.

O'Neill's presence at his own trial did not go unnoticed by vile nutter Sutcliffe, who is now serving a life sentence in Broadmoor Hospital.

By rights, the woman-killer — who was born in Bingley, West Yorkshire — should show allegiance to Bradford City.

But the reviled murderer shuns his home side to support the former Nottingham Forest winger's team.

The ex-lorry driver, who murdered 13 women between 1975 and 1980, is said to admire the unorthodox style of Villa hitman John Carew.

Magazines

A Broadmoor insider told Sunday Sport: "Sutcliffe supports Villa simply because Martin was there at his trial.

"There's not a week goes by where he doesn't get all the football magazines to soak up Martin's words of wisdom.

"He absolutely adores him and hangs on his every word."

The insider added: "BBC1's Saturday lunchtime soccer show Football Focus is like a religion to him, too.

"He always tunes in just in case the former Leicester boss appears on it."

Fury at Crystal Meth Maze!

A DRUGGED-UP version of Richard O'Brien's cult gameshow The Crystal Maze is set to cause uproar in the UK.

The Crystal Meth Maze pits five addicts of the lethal drug against the might of the four original zones: Industrial, Aztec, Futuristic and Medieval.

The out-of-their-heads competitors desperately try to make sense of their surroundings while a look-alike of O'Brien (above) guides them round the maze in the Swedish show that's been snapped up by a British satellite channel.

The junkies, who are said to undergo 18 hours of frantic lust while in the thrall of the demon drug, find it impossible to concentrate on the tasks while they are totally fixated with the opposite sex.

A Swedish TV insider said: "This is one of the hottest things to come out of our country since Abba and porn.

"In one episode a hot blonde ends up bonking a reluctant presenter on a recreation of an Aztec sacrificial altar!"

PRIZE CHUMPS A WASH-OUT!

WAHEY . . . The Apprentice is back!

Ahead of us lies three months of the antics of prize arseholes who think they're packing all the skills to become captains of industry when they're not even worthy of captaining an under-5's football team.

The opening car-washing episode was a gem, filled with fools making prize twats of themselves without even realising it for a single second.

Here are some of my favourite moments . . .

●Eventual loser Anita describing herself as possessing "the full rainbow of skills that people want".

I could only see moodiness and incompetence, and they're never high up on an employer's hit list.

●Some of the potential team names – Shazam, Strike (everybody out!) and Carpe Diem for the men, Genesis for the women, as suggested by useless Mona. One of her team mates asked her, "Why Genesis?" to which she replied "I don't know."

●The women doing what they do EVERY SINGLE YEAR and turning on each other like bitch snake weasels the minute the competition began.

Bully

Knowing that a losing project manager stands a good chance of getting the boot in the first week, they all avoided volunteering while trying to flatter or bully one of the weaker ones into the role. Quality.

●The women pitching an offer of £300 to clean three cars. You'd expect full sex on the back seat for that kind of dosh.

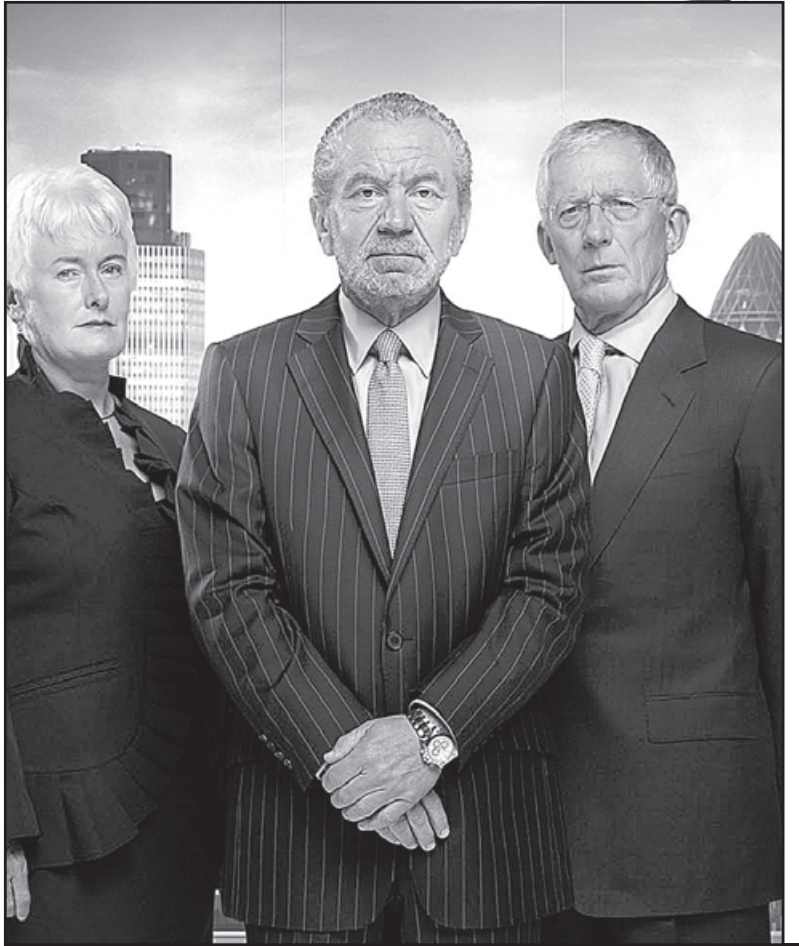

●The blokes jet washing the cars without closing the doors, and then forgetting to do the roofs. Twerps.

●Useless, mental Mona staring out over an industrial estate and announcing to nobody in particular: "If we see a car we don't want it to go by without talking to us." Talking cars? Leave off sniffing the Turtle Wax, eh, Mona?

●Loser Anita's parting shot – "Let's see if in 10 years time, Sir Alan doesn't sit back and think 'Mmm, maybe I made the wrong decision.'"

Yeah, it's going to be eating away at him for the next decade isn't it love?

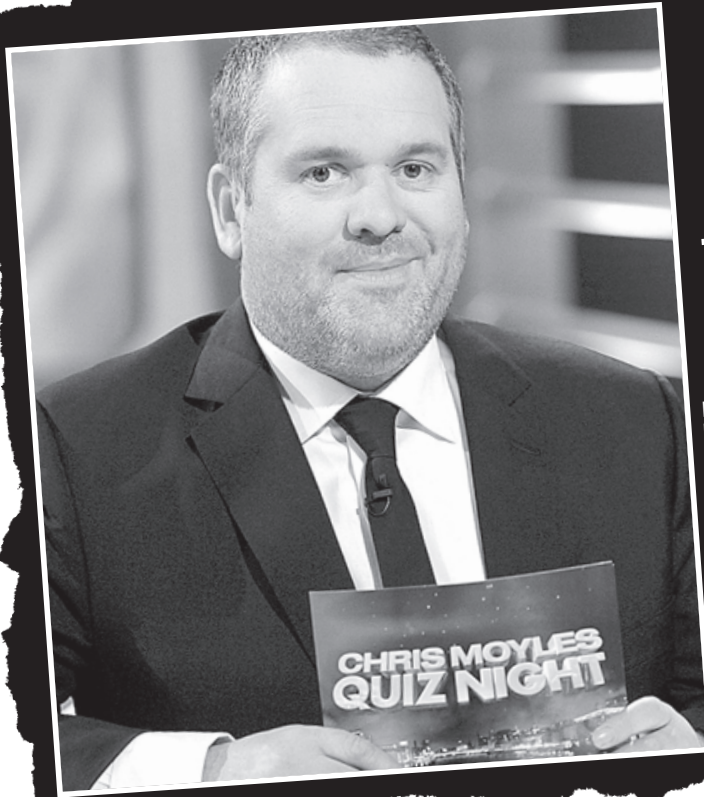

He'll sit bolt upright in bed in 2019 with the cold sweats and wonder if that 15th best candidate from 2009 really was the one after all?

Gromit is just a traitor

AD of the week has to be Wallace and Gromit plugging an energy supplier who I'm not going to mention – not after the shit I went through trying to close my account with them.

Never has so much goodwill drained away from a beloved British character as it surely will when the public realise their Christmas telly favourites are flogging overpriced gas. The Plasticine bastards.

Your name is to blame, Moylesie!

RADIO'S top braying human doughnut Chris Moyles is having another stab at doing telly with Chris Moyles' Quiz Night, following on from previous small screen flops like Live With Chris Moyles and The Chris Moyles Show.

As expected, it was an out-of-control, oversized bowling ball made of bullshit and there's more chance of Moyles touching his toes than there is of him getting a second series of this pap.

Curiosity

Here's a tip mate – try doing a TV show without your name in the title. That way you stand a chance of people tuning in out of curiosity instead of seeing it in the listings and saying, "Aw, f*** that for a game of soldiers!"

TV LOOKALIKES

SOAP TW*T OF THE WEEK

CORRIE'S Ken Barlow. Carrying on an affair with a woman on a boat. At his age. I've looked it up on the net and he's f***ing 70 in October. Can the man stop obsessing about his cock and start planning the music for his funeral like everyone else his age?

We need old big 'ead now

AHEAD of the launch of The Damned United (which is probably the best footy film EVER made, even better than Escape To Victory and Bend It Like Beckham put together) ITV1 screened a tribute to Brian Clough.

It served to remind me just what an important figure he was in the game while he was around, a complete and utter one-off.

From 1980 onwards, Cloughie's teams didn't pick up all that many trophies but he was never less than entertaining, even when he was clearly pissed all the time at the end.

Compare and contrast with today's managers – half of them won't talk to the TV cameras because they've said nasty things about them in investigative documentaries and the rest have got nothing to say.

Would Liverpool fans swap Rafa Benitez for a reincarnated Brian Clough? In a heartbeat they would.

Rafa's been here long enough to learn fluent English, the trouble is he's got nothing worth saying.

Oh and one other thing Rafa – no-one ever succeeded at anything anywhere ever while sporting a f***ing goatee beard. It just isn't the mark of a winner. Know this.

I hope when Clough popped his clogs they remembered to freeze his head for when science catches up because we need him back now more than ever before.

Mad surgeon made patients look proper Charlies

A PLASTIC surgeon has been struck off for transforming patients' faces to resemble TV gardener Charlie Dimmock. Dr Francis Lachappelle, 50, of North London, was found in contravention of his hippocratic oath and banned from practicing medicine for his scalpel antics.

The surgeon regularly performed operations at the private St Thomas and All Angels Hospital, and made EIGHT people, men and women, look like the Ground Force star.

The warped doctor made a fortune in fees from patients who only wanted minor nip and tuck surgery.

But Lachappelle never intended to carry out the surgery, he wanted to turn EVERYONE into Charlie Dimmock.

The hospital was only alerted to the medicman's naughty knife work when patient Greg Humble, 45, raised the alarm.

He said: "I went in to get rid of the lines on my forehead and came out looking like a ginger gardener, who's a woman. "I'm a corporate lawyer and find myself in the position of being unable to work with clients without them p*ssing themselves laughing. I'll see Dr Lachappelle in court."

Hypnotist thinks his own balls are on fire

A HYPNOTIST accidentally put himself in a trance live on stage and now thinks his balls are permanently on fire.

Tito Manilla, real name Eric Jones, 38, was performing his popular stage show Thriller From Manilla at Scarborough club The Kinky Turnip.

Beginning his act with his trademark multiple hypnosis, the experienced performer got several women to fake orgasm.

Then Eric attempted to hypnotise stag night reveller Bob Humphries, 25, into thinking his testicles were alight.

Unfortunately for Eric, he caught a glimpse of himself in a backstage mirror at the vital moment and the psycho-spell was cast on HIMSELF.

Bob said: "The next thing he was running around screaming that his nads were on fire and asking for water."

Eric was last night in a stable condition and doctors were confident they could undo the effects of self-hypnosis.

I shagged 4 generations of my bloke's family...cos he forgot my birthday!

Amy's back to her BREAST!

BUSTY singer Amy Winehouse came perilously close to airing her raspberry ripple to snappers yesterday.

Sadly the 25-year-old's puppy's nose was just out of view as she was spotted clambering over a neighbour's fence.

The Back to Black singer put her new-found curves down to finally giving up crack.

She said: "I haven't done smack or crack since before I went out to St Lucia.

"I'm completely clean now and I feel much better for it."

HAPPIER TIMES for Colin and Gayle

GUTTED Gayle Forshaw was so mad when her fella forgot her birthday that she SHAGGED four generations of his family to get her own back.

She saw red when her boyfriend Colin Renolds, 40, forgot to buy her a pressie or a card when she turned 34 last week.

But instead of letting it go she decided she'd teach him a lesson he'd never forget.

So the angry lass BEDDED his son from a previous marriage, his brother, his dad and even his grandad in one weekend. And the first he's heard of it will be now - because she's letting him know through his favourite paper, Sunday Sport.

Colin might want to look away now - because his MAD missus of the past four years has revealed exactly how she carried out the PERVERSE plan.

Gayle, from Bedford, said: "If he thought you could get away with forgetting my birthday then he's got another thing coming, there's no way he'll make that mistake again."

Gayle admitted that it was surprisingly EASY to act out her plan of sleeping with four of Colin's family.

Target

She explained: "I started with his son Darren. He's 19 and permanently on heat so he was the easiest target. I waited until Colin was out then I put on my best lingerie and walked into his room."

"Within two seconds he had an enormous hard on so I made my move - it was over in about two minutes bless him."

Just HOURS later Gayle made her play for Colin's brother Sam, 41, who lives down the same street.

She said: "I went round and said I needed to borrow some sugar. When he came back from the kitchen I was lying on the sofa with just my bra on and my legs spread.

"He might be Colin's brother, but he's still just a man and he couldn't resist, he was putty in my hands."

NEXT in line was Colin's dad. Gayle added: "I took his old man Simon down the pub for a drink the next day. He was pouring his heart out about being on his own since his wife passed away, so I slipped a hand on his thigh."

Just moments later the 62-year-old was pumping away at Gayle against the wall in an alleyway behind the pub.

Stamina

And according to Gayle the icing on the cake was screwing his 80-year-old grandfather Dennis.

She said: "I have to say he has a lot of stamina for an old chap. I had to be gentle with Dennis, but I gave him the ride of his life."

And Gayle has one final message for Colin: "Read it and weep Colin. And by the way, your grandad is better in bed than you are."

'Cow snot' scandal of Super Goo toy

EASTERN Europe's most popular toy has been pulled off the shelves after it was discovered that more than half of it is made from cow snot.

Super Goo is the latest craze across Russia and most of its neighbouring countries, with 76 million tubs of it sold in the last year alone.

But last week, police staged a raid on the Ukrainian factory where it is manufactured.

A police spokesman said: "Thousands of cows were cramped together in sheds, each of them with pipes up their noses which are attached to machines. Tons of snot is coming out each day."

Following the raid, Super Goo was analysed and it was discovered that 56 per cent of the substance is made from the illegally-harvested cow snot.

Company owner Sergei Barramov said last night: "Without the cow snot it is not Super Goo. It is the snot that makes it super and helps it climb up walls."

BBC investigation after Dr Who prop used as toilet at staff party

By NEIL GOODWIN

FURIOUS BBC bosses have launched an investigation after a member of staff took a dump in Doctor Who's Tardis.

Cast and crew had gathered on set to film a new one-off special starring David Tennant, 37, due to be screened on Easter Sunday.

But the shoot has been soured by a "despicable" turd bandit who dropped his GUTS in the Time Lord's police telephone box.

Quiz

So far producers have failed to identify the PHANTOM shitter, who is thought to have struck following the show's wrap party.

But they're set to quiz everybody who was at the star-studded bash.

A source on set told Sunday Sport: "No-one's sure whether this was done maliciously, or simply by accident.

"After all, when you're half cut it would be easy to mistake the Tardis for a Portaloo . . . and everyone was very drunk at the wrap party."

"The poo was found by our prop maintenance man. For someone to curl one out in such a BBC icon is despicable.

"The props department were so angry they even called for the excrement to be DNA tested in order to find out who did it.

"All of the talent deny any involvement but now everyone suspects everyone else. It's a real scandal."

I'll stick my sonic screwdriver up his arse if I find him

Circus clown is fed to elephant

A RINGMASTER killed his clown love rival before feeding him to a circus elephant.

Ivan Andropov flipped his lid after discovering star act Ponko, 39, was bonking his trapeze artist girlfriend Irina, 27.

After the evening performance, jealous Andropov – still in full costume – lured the famous clown back to the Big Top before flogging him with his ringmaster's whip.

Romanian Andropov, 50, who also owns the Kulag Travelling Circus which was on the outskirts of Bucharest at the time of the murder, then stabbed Ponko with a ceremonial sabre used for sword-swallowing.

The ruthless killer dismembered his rival on the easily-cleaned circus sawdust, before stirring the remains into Tatiana the elephant's food cauldron.

intention of that performance being his last.

As gypsy fiddlers and accordionists performed a showpiece dance act, Andropov stole one of the circus's white stallions and fled into rural Romania.

Despite a manhunt, Andropov – who left a chilling note boasting "I regret nothing" – is still at large.

A funeral was held yesterday for Ponko, with his suit wig, nose and shoes in place of his body.

Nose

He was only caught after Ponko's red nose was found in the bottom of the bucket on Thursday.

When confronted by his furious co-stars Andropov broke down and confessed, agreeing to turn himself into police after the 7.30pm performance.

But the devious showman had no

MONSTER:
Mum Olesya tucked into her victim

AS a cannibal mum axes her friend to death and eats her body, Sunday Sport reveals crazed Russian killers are the ones to watch out for. Olesya Mostovschikova, 27, isn't the only mad Russkie with a thirst for murder and in recent years there has been a number of horrific killings that could put Peter Sutcliffe to shame. On Friday Mostovschikova told police she rowed with Tatiana Romanchuk, 32, during a booze-up. That row finished in a meal.

Gouge

She calmly told cops: "I took the axe and hit her a number of times on her head. Then I cut off her ears, gouged out one eye, cut off an arm and a hand. I then cooked the parts in the oven." The mum went on to describe how, with the help of a friend named only as Julia, she hid 32-year-old Tatiana's body in the cellar of her Siberian home. "Some time later, I went down to the cellar again because Julia said that she was hungry and wanted to eat some more. We sliced off some more meat and took it

NIKOLAI DZHURMONGALIEV

AKA Metal Fang Killed: Seven (possibly 100)

KING of the cannibals Nikolai Dzhurmongaliev is believed to have killed up to 100 women, and served many of them to his dinner guests.

The killer, better known as Metal Fang thanks to his white metal teeth, used at least seven of his victims to make ethnic dishes for his neighbours in Kazakhstan.

When arrested the flesh-hungry killer pointed out that two women could provide enough delicate meat to keep him going for a week.

Metal Fang started his cannibal-killer career after bribing his way out of an mental hospital. He believed women and prostitution were the root of all that was wrong in the world.

According to Yuri

Dubyagin, an officer of the Interior Ministry Colonel, Metal Fang is "absolutely normal, but at one point got a taste for female meat."

He describes the killer – who was born in Moscow – as having the brains of a "lone wolf" and being a very powerful man. "When we arrested him," said Dubyagin, "he hit me with the force of Jean Claude Van Damme."

Metal Fang was caught when friends, who he had invited to his house for "snacks", found a human head and intestines in his fridge.

Although he was charged with seven murders, some sources put the total number of victims at 50-100. He battered them with an axe.

Found to be insane, he was sentenced to a psychiatric hospital but escaped while being transported to another facility. It took two years to recapture the loon in 1991. Metal Fang was actually released from a mental institution in Uzbekistan in January 1994 and is now a free man after being deemed not responsible for his actions.

YURI MOZHANOV

AKA Emo monster Killed: One

A BLOODTHIRSTY teen drowned and cannibalised his 16-year-old girlfriend to satisfy a sick appetite for human flesh.

And the motive for the horrific killing was simply because he was hungry.

Yuri Mozhanov (pictured) and his friend Maxim Golovatskikh, both 19, are said to have barged in on Karina Barduchyan having a bath.

Police believe they held her under the water to drown her before they sliced meat from a leg and her insides with a kitchen knife before cooking it in the oven with potato.

The barbaric act came as the youths – followers of the Emo youth cult – along with Karina and another young woman, gathered at a flat in St Petersburg in Russia to mark the Epiphany holy day in the Orthodox calendar.

Russians traditionally celebrate the religious festival by diving into icy waters to wash away sins. A police spokesman said: "The two got rather drunk and began quarrelling."

Naked

According to sources, Golovatskikh told Mozhanov, a florist, they should kill and eat Karina when she went for a bath at around midnight.

They are then believed to have pushed open the unlocked bathroom door and attacked the naked teenager.

The prosecutor at his trial said: "They cut up the body of the victim into several pieces, eating some of them and throwing the others into the bin.

"Then they cooked her meat and served up the meal with potatoes."

The murder took place on January 19 but the girl's remains were discovered last month in plastic bags dumped in nearby streets. One of them contained her head.

They are awaiting trial.

ALEXANDER VORONOVIC AND NIKOLAI OGOLOBYAK

AKA Satan's children Killed: Four

A GANG of teenage Satan worshippers murdered four teenagers in Russia by stabbing each of them 666 times.

The number of wounds is the same as that revered by followers of the Devil.

The three girls and one boy, all described as Goths and aged between 16 and 17, were forced to drink alcohol by the gang before they were attacked.

The killers then lit a bonfire under a tree near their cottage in the Yaroslavl region, 500 kilometres north-east of Moscow, where they cooked and ate their victims' body parts.

The remains of Anya

Gorokhova, Olga Pukhova, Varya Kuzmina and Andrei Sorokin, who disappeared from their homes in June last year.

After arresting eight people in connection with the murders, police discovered all four victims had made phone calls to the flat of alleged gang leader Nikolai Ogoobyak (bottom right), a former church choirboy.

They discovered the victims' body parts in a pit near Ogoobyak's flat.

Sicko sidekick Alexander Voronovic (top right), claimed the gang had previously dug up a grave and eaten the heart of the girl buried there. They have not yet been sentenced.

SASHA SPESIVTSEV

AKA Bathtub beast Killed: 20 +

SERIAL killer Sasha got his mother to cook up his victims for dinner.

His crimes were discovered purely by chance in 1996 when neighbours found a pipe breakage and called a plumber.

The problem was found to be in Spesivtsev's Russian apartment that he shared with his mum. The plumber's knock went unanswered so he kicked the door down and found blood smeared across all the walls.

In the kitchen police discovered flesh in saucepans, while the bathtub housed a headless corpse.

Traumatized victim Olga Galtseva was found mutilated but still alive, on the sofa. She was taken to hospital, where she was able to tell the public prosecutor about being mutilated, raped and tortured. She died 17 hours later.

It was Spesivtsev's mother who had lured three girls, including Olga, last year into the flat, where he then raped and beat them.

The crazed killer murdered one of the girls and forced the other two to cut her into pieces in the bathtub.

Mum then cooked her body parts for dinner.

The second girl was killed by their dog, a viciously trained Doberman.

The police found a diary which detailed the murders of 19 girls and Spesivtsev, 38, is suspected of being responsible for more than a dozen other deaths.

He was found guilty in all 19 cases and sentenced to death and later declared insane and put into a psychiatric hospital. His mother, Ludmilla, was convicted as an accomplice and sentenced to life in prison.

upstairs to the kitchen. We fried it on the cooker and ate it."

Police said the women sliced flesh from the victim's buttock, breast and a cheek.

One of the fiend's pals claims she was forced to eat the flesh. Her son, seven, witnessed the murder and the cooking. He is now in care.

Mostovschikova is now under arrest after confessing to the murder, for which she faces up to 15 years in prison.

It is the second horrific cannibal case involving female victims in the former Soviet Union in the last six months.

Last September in Yaroslavl, Satanists killed and ate Olga Pukhova, 15, and Anna Gerokhova, 16, after a ritualistic killing.

And the thirst for blood does not stop there. Recent killings have had millions of people living in fear.

Here are some of the sickest....

ALEXANDER PICHUSHKIN

AKA The Chessboard Killer Killed: 48 +

THE Chessboard killer invited his victims to drink vodka with him before bludgeoning them to death with a hammer.

He has been convicted of 48 counts of murder after a trial that shocked and fascinated the world.

Pichushkin, 33, sat in silence and showed no remorse as a jury foreman read out 48 successive and unanimous guilty verdicts.

For him, psychiatrists said, the real punishment came from being denied the title of Russia's most prolific serial killer. He claims to have killed 63 - 13 more than Andrei Chikatilo (see below).

Pichushkin never hid his craving to kill. "A life without murders was like a life without food," he said in the confession.

Pichushkin got his first taste of murder in 1992, when, aged 18, he strangled a school friend and threw him out of a window. For 13 years, he resisted the urge to kill again.

Then, inexplicably, the supermarket worker embarked on an intensive murder spree in Moscow's Bitsevsky Park.

This time, he killed strangers, mainly elderly alcoholics that he befriended outside his local tube station by offering to share a bottle of vodka with them.

Hammer

Many were lured to a remote corner of the park, where Pichushkin claimed his dog was buried and where he liked to drink in its memory.

Some he tossed into sewage pits, others he strangled, but most were killed by blows to their heads with a hammer.

To make sure they were dead, he would place the vodka bottle in their shattered skulls.

After his work was finished, he would return to his flat and record his latest murder by placing a coin on a chessboard.

When he was detained, police found that 63 of the 64 squares had been filled in.

But cops have only found 48 bodies.

ANDREI CHIKATILO

AKA Butcher of Rostov Killed: 52

GRANDFATHER and sick sexual sadist Andrei Chikatilo committed a series of brutal, frenzied and unimaginable murders thought at first to have been carried out by an entire gang of killers.

The range of victims was wide - aged from nine to 45 and of both sexes. They were raped, tortured and often mutilated with his own teeth.

Cops eventually realised they were being committed by one man - and it still took them eight years to cage him.

Thin, gaunt and outwardly nervous, he seemed at first glance to be a model Soviet citizen. The 57-year-old was married, did not drink or smoke, was a member of the Communist Party and had a good job.

But there was only one way Chikatilo could be sexually satisfied - a very bloody way.

Chikatilo murdered at least 52 people and claims to have killed three more. He cut out their eyes, chopped off their sexual organs and spattered their bodies with semen.

His weapons included rope, a knife and he gnawed on parts of some victims.

Lured

The sicko's first victim in 1978 was a nine-year-old girl who he lured to an old house and tried to rape. When she struggled he stabbed her to death.

Six bodies had been uncovered by 1983. By 1984, another 15 murders took place.

Chikatilo was arrested but lack of evidence meant he was soon released and in 1988, he resumed killing.

Between January and

November of 1990 alone he slaughtered seven boys and two women.

When Chikatilo was finally arrested police forced a confession and he led police to some shallow graves.

Chikatilo was tried from an iron cage and on January 4, 1994, was executed by a single gunshot behind the right ear.

Smoke bill after back garden cremation

A MAN who cremated his mum on a bonfire in his back garden faces legal action after the smoke dirtied his neighbours' windows.

Greg Wolks, 40, of Wythenshawe, Manchester, was inspired to carry out the unusual funeral after hearing about the Hindu tradition of cremating their dead on open air pyres.

Davender Ghai, 70, this week asked the High Court to rule on his right to be cremated traditionally.

But after Greg's mum Margaret, 65, kicked the bucket on Wednesday, the bachelor plumber decided he couldn't wait for the legal battle to be resolved.

He said: "I couldn't just hang about letting mum decompose - so I went ahead."

But Greg, was horrified the next day to get window cleaning bills from neighbours.

He said: "They even threaten to sue if I didn't pay up. Well they can shove their windows up their arses."

A BIRMINGHAM family has found a way to live like millionaires on a shoe-string Credit Crunch budget.

The Parnabies used their noggins, hired a skip, filled it with water from a garden hose and hey presto they'd made a DIY swimming pool.

Brainchild of mum Jenny, 52, the freezing cold pool has become the place to be when the sun gets out in the second biggest city in England.

Now Jenny is the world's best mum according to her kids Jake, 14, and Emma, 16.

The teaching assistant said: "We live in a terraced house and all we have is a tiny yard at the back.

Play

"It's no place for children to play in and barely catches an hour's worth of sun when it's a beautiful summer's day.

"During the warm snap a couple of weeks ago the kids were itching to go swimming outdoors, and nowhere caters for that round here.

"The sea is miles away and we all just wanted a swim. I have a mate who rents out skips and I got him to bring one round for the week."

Now Jake and Emma are the toast of their school, St Aelred The Munificent, because of their amazing pool.

Movie website RatedSlated.co.uk polled 2,000 men aged between 25 and 35 and asked which movie scenes they first remember bashing the bishop to.

The winner with a whopping 45 per cent was the classic naked shower sequence in 1981 flick Porkies, while Jamie Lee Curtis' baring her norks in 1983's Trading Places took second.

Third was Rebecca De Mornay's cult naked shower romp in 1983 comedy Risky Business.

A spokesman for RatedSlated.co.uk said: "Every bloke remembers their first movie ham shandy. There's no surprise that Porkies is the winner, it's one of the greatest nude scenes in movie history."

Propping up the list was Amanda Donohoe's ultimate naked performance in 1989's Castaway, and Linzi Drew's nude romp in cult 1981 horror An American Werewolf In London.

By ISOBEL DICKINSON

FORGET about the ditties because this country music bash is all about the TITTIES.

This saucy scene must have been music to lad's eyes when they arrived at the Tamworth Country Music Festival in New South Wales, Australia last week.

And the guys weren't there for the rootin' tootin' tunes, the fellas wanted to see the first-ever Norks-out contest, which took place after the music had finished.

But all the babes look like winners to us.

MY FIRST TIME!

I wouldn't say size is too important, it's more about technique

FIRST HAND-JOB

ELLIE: It was at a sleepover at my friend's house when I was 16. I'd pulled one of the guys in the year above me and we decided to share the same bed that night. It wasn't long before he grabbed my hand and pushed it down his trousers. He had a hard-on so I knew what I was meant to do. It took about 10 minutes to make him come and it was a huge relief because I was getting really bored! I couldn't believe how sticky it was though.

AMY: I pulled a lad from school when I was 16. We skipped off a lesson and were sat around the back of the sports hall having a chat when one thing led to another and he ended up getting his willy out. It took about five minutes to make him come but I really enjoyed it because it felt naughty. He covered his trousers in jizz and had to go home to get changed because of the stains! That made me laugh.

FIRST BLOW-JOB

ELLIE: I was 17 and my fella literally begged me to do it because all his mates' girlfriends had done it and he felt like he was missing out! I didn't like it because his knob didn't taste too nice and I wasn't sure if I was doing it right. He came after about five minutes straight down my throat, it tasted rank and I spat out what I could.

AMY: I was 16 and my boyfriend had been pestering me to do it for ages. Then one night when he was driving me home I just leaned over, pulled it out and did it. I really enjoyed it — it turned me on a lot. He came after about 10 minutes and I willingly swallowed it all, after all, it's rude to spit isn't it?

FIRST SHAG

ELLIE: My boyfriend and I had been to the cinema and he was driving me home when I asked him to pull over because I was feeling horny. He only had a Mini Metro and it was really cramped doing it on the back seat. Overall, it was pretty rubbish because he came really quickly and I'd been expecting it to go on for hours. I'd also hoped my first time would be a little bit more romantic.

AMY: It was in a pub toilet when I was 16. My boyfriend and I were quite drunk and after a bit of footsie under the table he followed me into the loos. It just felt like the right time to do it and felt really naughty — which turned me on a lot. Unfortunately we forgot to lock the cubicle door and after three or four minutes someone came in and saw us so we had to abandon it. I still enjoyed it though, I never imagined my first time would be so much fun.

FIRST HUGE WILLY

ELLIE: My last boyfriend had the biggest willy I've ever seen. My jaw dropped in amazement when I saw it was eight inches long. And the first time we had sex it was so amazing. It hit all the right spots because of its extra length and I had the fastest orgasm of my life, it only took about two minutes! Our sex life was always great, and willy size is very important, the bigger the better!

AMY: I went out with a lad last year who was well hung, his was about seven inches long. My first thoughts when I saw it were "That will never fit!" I was surprised when we first had sex though because it felt perfect and he was just great in bed, he knew exactly what he was doing. Overall I wouldn't say size is too important, it's more about technique. If they're clueless if doesn't matter how big it is.

FIRST TIME BUM FUN

ELLIE: It's never appealed to me because I see my bum as a hole where stuff should come out of — not go into! One of my friends tried it with her boyfriend and she could hardly walk for the next three days, that's put me off for life.

AMY: I've never fancied trying bum sex either. I've convinced myself that it will be really painful and you're right — bums weren't meant for willies!

FIRST TIME OUTSIDE

ELLIE: I was 18 and with a guy I knew from school. We were sunbathing in the local park having walked the dog when we both got frisky and he jumped on top of me. There was no-one else in sight so we just went for it. It only lasted about five minutes but was a real adrenaline rush and the sex was great. It's good to have sex in different places, it makes it more interesting.

AMY: It was on the beach in Ibiza when my boyfriend took me on holiday. We'd been out all night and were steaming drunk when I dragged him down onto a secluded part of the beach and we both stripped off. It was inevitable what would happen next and after checking no-one was around we did it. It lasted about half an hour and felt really liberating. The only problem was that the sand got into some awkward places.

FIRST ONE-NIGHT STAND

ELLIE: I went for a three-day holiday to Magaluf in January to get over splitting up with my boyfriend and hooked up with a guy there when I was drunk. We partied all night and when he invited me back to his place I couldn't resist because I had the horn. He was an expert in the bedroom and gave me about 10 orgasms throughout the night — just what I needed! I stayed the night but was horrified the next morning when I saw his face without my beer goggles on — he wasn't the prettiest.

AMY: My first one night stand was a nightmare. I pulled a guy in a club one night last year and he was really fit. So at the end of the night I asked him to come back to mine for a night cap. We didn't waste any time and went straight to my room — but the sex was awful. He just lay there like a sack of spuds and came in less than a minute! I was mortified because I was looking forward to having an orgasm. Then the next day he confessed I'd taken his virginity!

FIRST SEX TOY

ELLIE: Mine was a Rampant Rabbit vibrator that my friend got me for my birthday last year. I couldn't wait to try it because I'd heard that they pretty much guarantee multiple orgasms. The first time I used it I was in my room for about four hours and didn't want to stop I was having such a good time. It's better than any willy I've ever had but there's something a little impersonal about a plastic willy isn't there?

AMY: My first sex toy was a willy ring. My boyfriend bought it in a supermarket because he thought we could have some fun with it. I was a bit unsure when we first started using it, but it was brilliant. It made everything feel way more intense and gave me great orgasms. The only problem was that it made my boyfriend come a little bit too quickly so the sex didn't last as long.

FIRST TIME FANTASY

ELLIE: I lived out my fantasy last year when I dressed up as a naughty nurse for my man. I'd been eyeing it up for weeks and knew I'd look great in it, so one day I took the plunge and bought it. I didn't tell him I'd got it so it was a nice surprise when he came home from work one night to see me wearing it. He loved it and I felt mega sexy wearing it. We role-played as doctor and nurse and had a great time. It was even better than my fantasy.

AMY: It was when my boyfriend and I met at a bar and pretended we'd never seen each other before. It was really good fun because even just playing footsie under the table felt really naughty! When I took him back to my place the sex was wild because we'd been waiting all night for it and were both so turned on. What's the point in having an imagination if you don't use it?

TV BABE IS BACK DOOR PORN QUEEN!

SOAP STAR POOPERSTAR!

HERE'S something you won't see down on Albert Square or in Weatherfield or Emmerdale...one of the stars getting it up the WRONG 'UN and loving it!

But that's just what happens in this sensational footage of this former soap star that's been circulating in showbiz circles for the last couple of weeks.

It shows the blonde babe, in her prime, a household name, having sex with her fella and begging him to do her up the DIRT BOX!

It's clearly a favourite and well-practiced position as she takes him easily and without a whimper then rides him hard and fast.

As she approaches her CLIMAX she is heard calling out in ECSTASY and begging him to fill her BACK ENTRY.

Shaven

The footage, thought to have been filmed while she was going out with an editor in the TV industry, also shows her giving ORAL and enjoying traditional sex in her SHAVEN PUNANI.

Our lawyers say we can't name her but we can run this vid and let you see for yourself.

You'll be amazed when you watch it and see who it is!

She shows the LOT and does the business!

White Chicks

IN these horrible times of job cuts, job cuts and MORE job cuts, it's nice to sit down with a nice cup of tea and watch a cracking comedy flick.

And they don't come much funnier than White Chicks, starring Marlon and Shawn Wayans as black brothers who are threatened with being kicked out of the FBI (more job cuts) after a failed drugs bust. In a bid to save their jobs from being cut, they disguise themselves as rich, white socialite sisters to uncover and foil a kidnapping plot. A lot of the humour is American but the Wayans lads are very funny guys and they'll keep you amused from start to finish.

The Boat Race

2.20pm—ITV1

IF you don't fancy a laugh then why not tune into this annual event? Yes, folks, it's the Boat Race, where two teams of over-privileged tosspots from Oxford and Cambridge Universities climb into big canoe things on the River Thames in London for a rowing race.

This event is usually held on a Saturday, but the tide dictates when it will take place and spectators wearing light blue and dark blue colours will turn out in force along the riverbank from Putney to Mortlake to join in the "fun". Apparently Oxford won last year's race, despite Cambridge being in the lead at Hammersmith.

Who will win it this time around? And who really cares?

with Col Galley

EASTENDERS' Peggy Mitchell has been through more blokes than diarrhoea after a dodgy curry.

Yet this week the old trout is to tie the knot again — with that horrible Archie geezer.

And, as Zainab and Masood

Over in Corrie, Ken Barlow is tormented with guilt over his relationship with Martha while his missus Deirdre is left holding the fort as his son Peter's drinking reaches a combustible and possibly fatal culmination.

TOP DRAMA

Damages

WELL, we're halfway through this excellent series, and it looks like the main plot is about to kick into gear.

The key character here is Uncle Pete (Tom Aldredge) — Patty's (Glenn Close) elderly odd job man/assassin.

Pete could be mistaken for one of the good guys, a wily old retainer with a gravelly voice and warm smile.

But we all know better than to be fooled by that, don't we, my loyal band of chums?

And tonight we learn about his sad home life and the shady business on the side that we had a glimpse of a few weeks back.

Yellowstone

IT'S now Autumn in this beautiful American national park and there are more living things knocking about in late August than at any other time of the year.

But in the space of just two months the bitter cold will return to Yellowstone and an early dusting of snow is a sign for elk to start moving down from the mountains to focus on finding food while beavers get busy in a rush to repair dams and stock underwater larders before their ponds become frozen solid.

And as the elk appear, guess who is waiting for them? Correctamundo... a hungry wolf or ten! Oooh, I can't wait.

FILLIES!

By ISOBEL DICKINSON

HERE'S a few fine specimens we'd love to put a saddle on.

It's Ladies' Day at Aintree this Friday and aside from horses and betting that means one thing ....BOOBS, BOOBS and more BOOBS.

And you can bet that on the eve of the world famous Grand National race, the lasses will pull out all the stops to put on their own spectacular showcase.

So we thought we'd give you a taste of what you can expect with this field of beauties from last year's event.

But our girls, delicious 34DD Dani Thompson, 27, and marvellous 34C MacKenzie, 26, are hot favourites with fellas — especially after posing topless in skin tight jodphurs and brandishing whips.

WHIP HAND: Mouthwatering MacKenzie shows she's in good form by parading her well-fancied 34C funbags

EXPRESSO STAR flew clear of his rivals to win the William Hill Lincoln at Doncaster.

The 100-30 favourite travelled strongly throughout in the far-side group under Jimmy Fortune and moved up to take the lead passing the one-furlong marker.

John Gosden's four-year-old showed a nice turn of foot to put distance between himself and his rivals.

He was not hard pressed to pass the post two and a half lengths ahead of Zaahid (11-1).

Filipando was third, another length and a quarter in arrears, while Mia's Boy was fourth. Fortune said: "I was very happy all the way as he travelled well and I wanted to settle it from two and a half furlongs out as he stays well."

"The only concern I had was that the horses on my side couldn't really leave me and the horses on the far side were getting away — I had to kick on a bit earlier than I wanted to."

"He was all out, but he won well and he's a progressive horse."

"You wouldn't know where he might end up this season."

Zaahid, trained by Barry Hills, lost nothing in defeat and is now likely to head to Ascot to defend his crown in the Victoria Cup in May.

Charlie Hills, assistant trainer and son of Hills snr, said: "He's ran a cracker, but the winner looks a pretty good horse and has beaten us fair and square."

"We might just wait for the Victoria Cup at Ascot, which he won so well last year."

David Barron was thrilled by the display of 16-1 shot Filipando, who finished third.

"It's probably as good a run as ever from him," said the Thirsk handler.

"The handicapper's unlikely to drop him and we'll just play about in the big handicaps."

We've gotta cut out all the silly mistakes

STRAUSS: SERIES STILL IN OUR HANDS

ANDREW STRAUSS says England must learn from their mistakes if they are to avoid another battering against the West Indies today.

The England captain admitted Friday's eight-wicket Duckworth/Lewis defeat at the Kensington Oval was both "humiliating and embarrassing" after West Indies raced to their victory target in only 14.4 overs.

It has put West Indies 2-1 ahead in the series with two matches to play and the hosts are strong favourites to add a one-day series success to their unexpected Test series triumph earlier in the tour. And had the Windies not misread the Duckworth/Lewis score in the first one-day, England would still be without a victory this winter.

But Strauss believes the tourists have the character to bounce back — if they do not keep making the same mistakes as in Barbados.

"Part of giving the players responsibility is that there are no excuses when we do badly," explained Strauss.

"We can't blame the coaches, we can't blame anyone other than ourselves and we each have an individual responsibility to make sure we don't make those mistakes again.

Blistering

"This is where that system should work. If people have pride in their performances, which I am certain they do, I'm very certain that they'll come back and play a lot better on Sunday."

The outcome of Friday's match was never in doubt after England slumped to 68 for eight in a match reduced to 44 overs by rain and Chris Gayle's blistering 80 from 42 balls gave the England bowlers yet another tough afternoon.

England's performance was not helped by four of the top six falling either to a pull or a hook shot and Strauss conceded: "I think the reality is we didn't react well to the wicket.

"We all made the same mistakes so there wasn't enough thought there and we have to ask ourselves individually why there wasn't enough thought.

"The crucial thing is to learn your lessons and if we're honest with ourselves we've done that sort of thing batting wise too often.

"What is very frustrating is if we keep making the same mistakes.

"Losing early wickets is not the way to win one-day internationals and we've done that too often.

"We've all got to hold our hands up and say that wasn't good enough and remember we're representing our country and we have an obligation to play better than that."

Normally given a day off to recuperate with two matches in three days, England headed back to the Kensington Oval for a practice session as punishment for their abject display.

Durham fast bowler Steve Harmison is expected to come into contention after missing out on Friday to accommodate the return of all-rounder Andrew Flintoff while West Indies are expected to name an unchanged team after cruising to two successive victories.

SO SORRY: Wakefield Wildcats skipper Jason Demetriou

Demetriou: I'm sorry we didn't win for Leon

RUGBY LEAGUE

WAKEFIELD captain Jason Demetriou apologised for his side's performance after they were thumped 42-18 by St Helens on the night the club mourned Leon Walker.

Walker, a promising 20-year-old from Morley, died during a reserve match against Celtic Crusaders last Sunday.

Belle Vue paid a deeply moving tribute to Walker's memory before Friday's match against Saints.

A television interview with his parents was shown on a big screen before kick-off, reducing many in the crowd to tears.

Family members, team-mates and both sets of players formed a guard of honour on the pitch before a minute's silence was impeccably observed.

When the match finally got under way, Wakefield opened the scoring after just two minutes as Steve Snitch touched down but there was to be no fairytale victory to dedicate to Walker's memory. The Wildcats surrendered meekly as St Helens ran in eight tries.

Demetriou, 33, said: "We weren't as one and we let each other down with our performance.

"We have to apologise to Leon's family because we didn't give him the send-off that he deserved.

"His family are hurting and we had an opportunity to go out and try to put a smile on their faces.

Destroyed

"We failed to do that and we've got to live with that. We argued amongst ourselves, we gave away far too much ball and St Helens destroyed us."

Walker joined Wakefield in November 2008 after three years in Salford's academy.

He had trained with the Wildcats' first team and impressed Demetriou.

He added: "Leon did sessions with us pre-season — he was a good kid. He seemed like a good lad who had a bright future."

champion believes a sculpture of himself could eventually stand alongside Clough in the city's Old Market Square.

Froch, 31, jets off this week to prepare for his defence against former middleweight champ Jermain Taylor in Connecticut. Nottingham Forest fan Carl is the biggest sporting star to emerge from Robin Hood country since Cloughie, who was City Ground boss from 1975 to 1993.

Froch, undefeated in 24 pro fights, was given the freedom of his city after winning his title against Jean Pascal in December. But he wants more glory. He said: "I can become a legend in my own right if I rule for five years.

"People think of Nottingham and come up with Robin Hood and Brian Clough. Wouldn't it be fantastic if in ten or 15 years time a statue of me stood next to Cloughie? I would do well to come anywhere close to the great man.

"But it is something I aspire to. It would mean everything if the people of Nottingham idolised me. What Cloughie did for Forest and the city was unbelievable."

TV networks are yet to buy Froch's first defence, which takes place on April 25 at Foxwoods Casino.

Sky Sports and Setanta are keen on staging the quality 12 rounder but are believed to be offering fish and chip money.

Froch fumed: "It will be disgraceful if people in Britain don't get to see the fight."

Roo's letting the pressure go to his head

THIS week's international friendlies come as a welcome respite for those of us whose teams are scrapping it out at the wrong end of the Premier League.

While all the TV pundits are focused on Bacon Face Fergie and Barry Benitez and wondering whose head is going to explode first, fans of Boro, Newcastle, Hull City etc are all sweating on the more important things in life. Like who's going to lose all their star larkers in time for a trip to Coventry on a p'ssing wet Tuesday night. Seriously though, apart from the residents of Liverpool and Essex, who gives a flying f*** where the title ends up? It'll be one of two or three teams, same as it is every year. It's boring, and about as unpredictable as pulling your kegs down before you take a sh'te.

I've seen more twists and turns watching Crown Court on a Tuesday dinnertime. The proper squeaky bum stuff goes on at the arse end of the table.

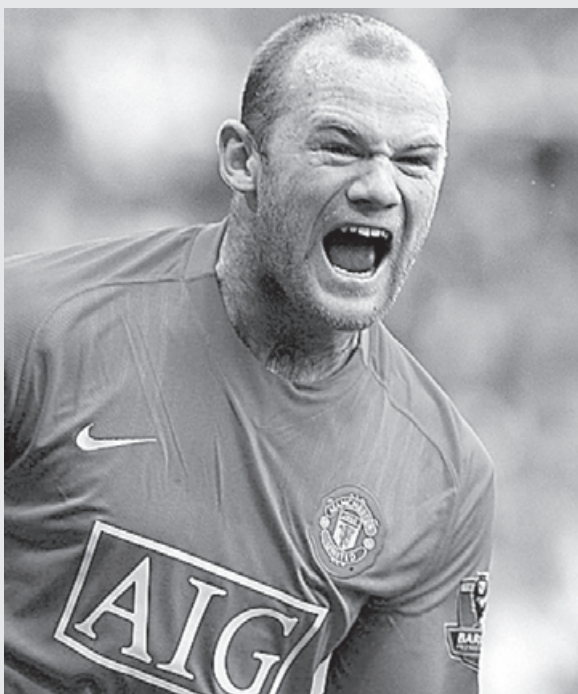

So it's nice to be able to stand in the pub and call another team a set of useless c***s. Just for a bit of a change, like.

In England's case, Capello's team selection has helped us start the forehead slapping before the first eleven get on the pitch.

Ledley King for England? That was a tactical masterstroke wasn't it? Did he actually manage to get his tracksuit off without dislocating his knee? What the f*** was Capello thinking of? He might as well have picked Stephen Hawking.

I know it's a friendly and all that, but there's no need to extend our friendliness as far as selecting Ledley King. Poor old Ledley. He may have the heart of a lion, but he has the knee of a flamingo.

My nana has played more first-team football than the hapless Tottenham centre back, and she's been brown bread since the late 1980s. But even if she was selected she'd probably last longer than Ledley. She'd definitely move quicker than him. As well as providing a break from the pressures of the league, the players also benefit from these friendlies. Wayne Rooney, for instance – although I doubt Wayne even knows what the word “friendly” means. He probably thinks it's one of the seven dwarfs.

Have you ever seen anyone more narky than Rooney? He makes Graham Souness look like Graham Norton. But, as Becks pointed out, aggression is often a characteristic of great players. It's also a characteristic of Jack Russells and two-year-olds, but there you go. I think it's not an unbendable will to win that fuels Wayne's brooding bad temper and quick-fire petulance. It's his quick-fire hair loss.

Every time I turn on Match Of The Day his head looks more and more like Mick Hucknall's arse. Still, at least if we lose the game we can always win the scrap afterwards. Especially if the other team come armed with corner flags.

One final observation on England – that new kit looks utterly shite.

If the pics on the internet are accurate, it looks like another pointless bit of f***ery, good for nothing except extracting more pocket money from star struck school children. It looks like Arsenal's kit turned inside out.

Why do they have to keep adding poncey bits of red? It looks like Gok Wan designed it after an argument with his boyfriend. Any splashes of red on the shirt should only come from the blood of an opponent.

The England kit should either be all white or all red, end of story. With three lions on the front and a number on the back, and that's it. And all the players should have their hair brylcreemed back.

Apart from Wayne, of course. He's excused on compassionate grounds.

OWEN GETS GOIN'

BY MATT JOHNSON

OWEN HARGREAVES is confident he will return from major knee surgery as a better player.

The Manchester United midfielder has been ruled out until the summer after having operations on both knees to cure a problem that first surfaced two years before his £18.6million move from Bayern Munich.

After an extensive rehab programme in the United States, under the direction of renowned Colorado-based surgeon Dr Richard Steadman, Hargreaves is now back at United's Carrington training complex, where he will step up his work even further.

Hargreaves is hoping to be fit for the start of next season, and eager to make up for lost time.

Stronger

And the Calgary-born star is optimistic he will not only return to top form, but his career may be extended as a consequence of going under the knife.

“I am going to come back stronger and hopefully add a couple more years to my career,” an optimistic Hargreaves said.

Although he picked up Champions League and Premier League winners medals in his first season at Old Trafford, his second has been a virtual write-off.

Hargreaves last played for Alex Ferguson's side in September, after which he finally gave up trying to overcome the pain. Although it has been tempting to watch United in action, the England star has stayed away, keeping focused on his own recovery programme rather than follow the Red Devils' faltering quest to win their 19th league title. “It has been frustrating at times,” said the 28-year-old.

BACK SOON: Owen Hargreaves is nearing full fitness

“I don't really watch our games because as an athlete, and being so competitive, it is hard to watch when you would normally be out there.”

Jong looks long

NIGEL DE JONG believes both he and Manchester City will reach their peak in two years.

The 24-year-old midfielder moved to Eastlands from Hamburg in January.

The Dutch star says he is better served turning out every week for City than playing a supporting role at a bigger club.

He said: “Everyone wants to play in a top team, but would you get a guaranteed starting place?”

“At City I play every week in the best league in Europe.

“I see this as a two-year project. Then I'll only be 26 years old, at the top of my abilities, and I could raise my profile for two seasons.”

The former Ajax man believes young players cannot reach their full potential in Holland.

He said: “Look who makes up the Dutch team now: guys like Ryan Babel, Wesley Sneijder and Rafael van der Vaart.

“They're all guys who people said left Ajax too soon. Holland is a good breeding ground, which you should leave around your 21st birthday to develop abroad.”

The Caen starlet, 20, has made a big impression in his debut season for the Ligue 1 side.

Gunners boss Arsene Wenger has now sent his France-based scout Gilles Grimandi to watch the midfielder, who impressed during last weekend's 2-2 draw with Nice.

£9m Aid

SPANISH giants Sevilla have joined the chase for £9million-rated Celtic star Aiden McGeady.

The high-flyers are ready to battle it out with Spurs while Bayern Munich are interested.

McGeady is on Sevilla's two-man summer shortlist as head coach Manolo Jimenez scours Europe for new talent.

The Chairboys led at the break through Gary Holt's stunning curled shot, but Shrewsbury – who have only won once on the road all season – were finally rewarded 15 minutes from time.

And Simpson said: "We're really disappointed not to have won the match, but there are a hell of a lot of positives to take from this.

"We've shown a good level of performance, and if we can improve on the tiny little pieces that make all the difference we've got a lot to look forward to."

Wycombe boss Peter Taylor has called on his side to bounce back by taking three points against Barnet on Tuesday.

He said: "The late goal was disappointing, but we should have dealt with their threats better throughout. Before the game, I would have taken four points from our next two, so that means we've got to beat Barnet on Tuesday.

"At times we looked a good side, but we are not playing with the confidence or belief I would like. That happens at this stage of the season – players play with a lot of nerves.

BECK-CELLENT: Leeds hitman Jermaine Beckford volleys home a cracking opener

JERMAINE BECKFORD netted a fantastic double as Leeds kept up their terrific home form by brushing aside play-off rivals MK Dons.

Leeds have now won their last eight games at Elland Road and despite being 10 points behind second-place Peterborough, Whites boss Simon Grayson says his side won't give up the fight for automatic promotion.

Grayson said: "All we can do is focus on ourselves and keep things going well at our end."

"We respect all the teams up at the top, but if any of the clubs above us slip up then we need to be ready to take advantage."

Rifle

United's talismanic striker, Beckford, 25, returned from another suspension to rifle home a deadly volley to put Grayson's men ahead in the 37th minute.

And he bagged his 31st of the campaign nine minutes into the second-half with another great piece of finishing to help secure a deserved win for the Yorkshire side. Beckford has had his fair share of critics among the Leeds fans this season, who often feel his build-up play often doesn't match his ability in front of goal.

However, his goals have been a constant bonus in an up and down season for the Whites. Since Gary McAllister was sacked in late December, Grayson has put his own stamp on the team and made the fallen Yorkshire giants a force to be reckoned with once again.

Leeds are now unbeaten in eight league games and were always the more dangerous side here up against Roberto Di Matteo's Dons.

Beckford fired Leeds on their way just before the half-time when he volleyed into the top left-hand corner with a lovely right-foot finish from 12 yards. Sam Baldock then went close for the Dons, but Beckford smashed in his second in the 54th minute.

Winger Robert Snodgrass played the ball into his path and the clinical finisher slotted into the bottom corner from 18 yards.

And Posh made sure of the success with a second goal 11 minutes from time as they cut Leicester's lead at the top to just four points.

STAR OF THE MATCH: Charlie Lee, Peterborough DONKEY OF THE MATCH: Matt Fryatt, Leicester

CREWE 0
MILLWALL 1

LOAN man Jason Price snatched an injury time winner to keep the Lions in the promotion race.

The striker, borrowed from Doncaster in midweek, came on as a substitute and turned home after keeper John Ruddy spilled his first effort.

Millwall's leading scorer Neil Harris was involved in most of the first-half's high points.

Harris should have scored on 37 minutes, but he flicked his close range header wide.

STAR OF THE MATCH: Adam Bolder, Millwall DONKEY OF THE MATCH: Byron Moore, Crewe

Ace Colli leads way for Terriers

HEREFORD 0
HUDD'FIELD 1

MICHAEL COLLINS scored the only goal of the game 18 minutes from time to leave the Bulls deep in the relegation mire.

The Terriers star struck from close range after a Gary Roberts cross to consign Hereford to a 23rd league defeat this season.

Most of the action came in the first-half, Town keeper Alex Smithies forced into a fine stop to thwart Jennison Myrie-Williams' volley. Hereford keeper Peter Gulacsi was also busy, keeping out Huddersfield's Anthony Pilkington on three occasions, while Hereford substitute Andy Williams was denied by an alert Smithies.

STAR OF THE MATCH: Michael Collins, Hudd'field DONKEY OF THE MATCH: Mark Pugh, Hereford

YEOVIL 1
SWINDON 0

JON OBIKA fired Yeovil to their first win in eight games.

Swindon made a bright start and were robbed of an early goal when keeper Chris Weale made a great save from Hal Robson-Kanu.

But Yeovil broke the deadlock after 33 minutes. Paul Warne played in Jon Obika and the striker lobbed keeper Phil Smith.

STAR OF THE MATCH: Jon Obika, Yeovil DONKEY OF THE MATCH: Jack Smith, Swindon

WALSALL 1
CHELTENHAM 1

MICHAEL TOWNSEND hit a second-half own goal as Cheltenham threw away another lead.

Frankie Artus put Cheltenham ahead with a stunning 35-yard strike.

But Walsall levelled in the 67th minute when Townsend put a left-wing cross into his own net – the third time in a week the Robins have let three points slip.

STAR OF THE MATCH: Troy Deeney, Walsall DONKEY OF THE MATCH: Michael Townsend, C'ham

SCUNTHORPE 3
COLCHESTER 0

GARY HOOPER netted a goal in each half as Scunthorpe cruised to a third successive home win.

After 36 minutes Hooper rounded keeper Mark Cousins before finding the net.

He made it 2-0 in the 59th minute, squeezing the ball past Cousins.

STAR OF THE MATCH: Gary Hooper, Scunthorpe DONKEY OF THE MATCH: Pat Baldwin, Colchester

OLDHAM 1

JASON DEMETRIOU grabbed the winner as Orient came from behind.

Oldham's Danny Whitaker raced clear to score after 34 minutes.

Orient's Dean Morgan then went down in the box and Scott McGleish fired in the penalty.

And Demetriou scored via a post from inside the penalty area to net the winner.

STAR OF THE MATCH: Jimmy Smith, Orient DONKEY OF THE MATCH: Sean Gregan, Oldham

Top Finishers Kuqi and JJ slay Welsh

WHAT A HAN-FUL:
Finland's Jonatan
Johansson turns away in delight after tucking away the opening goal

BUT TOSH REMAINS UPBEAT

BY BILLY CHARLES

JOHN TOSHACK insists his Wales team can recover from their shattering loss to Finland in their crunch World Cup qualifier.

Toshack's young side were found out by an experienced Finland team, who had veterans Sami Hyypia and Jari Litmanen as their outstanding players.

Captain Craig Bellamy felt neither side has "a glimmer of hope of qualifying" for South Africa in 2010, but Toshack was more optimistic.

Toshack said: "I'm obviously disappointed. They were an experienced side and kept the ball very well.

Short straw

"During the second period it got more and more difficult against very experienced players.

"It was a must-win for either side in a group where we have drawn the short straw facing Germany and Russia.

"But we can pick ourselves up, we have done it in the past. We can recover from this with five games left.

"I'm not angry, I try to understand why people cannot perform as well as they can. But they are very upset, they don't need to be told.

"We controlled the game at times but did not have the cutting edge."

Finland took the lead three minutes from the break when Litmanen's pass sent former Charlton forward Jonatan Johansson clear to squeeze his shot home off a post.

Daunting

Substitute Shefki Kuqi scored the second with two minutes left to leave the home side deflated ahead of a daunting clash with Germany in Group Four on Wednesday.

Toshack added: "The first goal was very important and we got caught at the end of a half we had dominated. We talked about not losing concentration and that is just what happened. We do not have a nucleus of experienced players, like the 30-plus players they had.

"The youngsters cannot buy experience, you wish they were getting more games at their clubs.

"Some of them have got nearly 20 caps but they are not playing at their clubs.

"I was pleased until they scored. After conceding so close to half-time it was always going to be difficult."

Finland's Birmingham-born boss Stuart Baxter hailed his side's victory and the performance of veteran midfielder Litmanen. Baxter said: "That was a very good performance and I was pleased that there were 2,000 Finnish fans here.

"Jari was outstanding, he is in the process of re-inventing himself at 38.

"He may not be able to do the runs he used to in the past, but he can still pass the ball around and he dominated."

HOW THEY RATED

Dead certs for the World Cup? Or ready for the international scrap heap? Here's how Capello's boys rated out of 10...

DAVID JAMES

Only tested once in his 45 minutes, making a solid save. Then again, not making a clanger is about all you want from him.

GLEN JOHNSON

Solid, dependable, no-nonsense defending in a back line that was hardly threatened. Shame about the stupid hair though.

JOHN TERRY

Usual steady self at the back, but cocked up when he prodded home Crouch's header and got it ruled out for offside.

MATTHEW UPSON

Made one slip-up in the first half that let in Vittek, but otherwise in full control. He's no Rio, but he's not a bad replacement.

6

ASHLEY COLE

Finally let his football do the talking. Didn't dick about once – which makes a nice change for the lad.

AARON LENNON

Terrified the Slovakian left-back so much in the first half that, at one point, he just waltzed past him like he wasn't there and almost scored.

FRANK LAMPARD

Kept things ticking over in the middle of the park as Gerrard and Lennon rampaged forward – and even bagged a goal for his efforts.

GARETH BARRY

Must have been glad to be on the winning side for once after Villa's recent collapse. Did the dirty work that set the platform for victory.

STEVEN GERRARD

Only played 45 minutes but was a class above everything else on the football pitch – except for his fellow Scouser...

WAYNE ROONEY

Almost telepathic understanding with Gerrard. There's more running in him than the Duracell bunny – deserved his goals.

EMILE HESKEY

Only lasted 15 minutes but still had time to score the opener before reverting to the old Heskey by missing a sitter from two yards.

7

CARLTON COLE (Sub)

Thought it was his lucky day when Heskey was forced off, but pulled up injured after mis-kicking his only chance.

4

S DOWNING (Sub)

Why, why, why? He's just not good enough to wear the Three Lions – especially if the alternative on the left wing is Gerrard.

4

DAVID BECKHAM (Sub)

Came on at half-time for his record 109th cap – and didn't disappoint, producing a great ball in for Rooney to nod home. Still class.

MICHAEL CARRICK (Sub)

Got the last 15 minutes in when the game was at walking pace. Couple of neat through-balls showed he's still a menace.

5

FOSTER/CROUCH (Sub)

Foster could have napped through the second half, while Crouch only lasted 20 minutes before a thigh knock forced him off.

KIT AND MISS: The new England kit is terrible

A sh*t kit is the only surprise for England

SURPRISES – we all love them.

So it's no surprise that there were so many empty seats at Wembley last night.

Because in England friendly matches there are no surprises – they are as pointless as telling Wayne Rooney to calm down.

If you've managed to keep your eyes open long enough to watch these games, you'll know they're as exciting as a night in with Steve Coppell.

It's like the whole farce is scripted – from Rio Ferdinand's injury to David Beckham coming on as a sub to beat Bobby Moore's cap record.

Then there's Steven Gerrard, arguably the best deep-lying forward in the world right now, playing on the left – again.

And what about Emile Heskey? To be fair he did give the nation a prod by actually scoring a goal.

But then he realised that wasn't in the script and made up for it by missing a sitter and limping off injured – as usual.

The performance as a whole was no eye-opener either.

Yes, England started well, strung a few passes together, scored and looked like they were up for it.

But they soon ditched that, returning to what we've come to expect over the years – a display that's a better cure for insomnia then a pitcher of Night Nurse while watching Question Time.

SPECIAL COMMENT BY GARETH ROBERTS

Even the prawn-sandwich brigade couldn't be arsed to watch the bore fest – it was a good six or seven minutes before most of them returned to their seats for the second half.

In fact, the only surprise of the night was that awful new kit – what's that all about?

It looks like it was designed by Stevie Wonder.

Polo or tennis, maybe. But that – a football kit? Never.

It made the England team look like a bunch of chavs on a stag do.

No wonder little-fancied Slovakia made such a game of it.

But of course it was all white in the end.

Because when Becks had finished fixing his hair, he did what he does best – delivered a quality ball.

And with one nod of his balding bonce, Rooney sunk the Slovaks.

Even that was predictable, though.

Because, after being labelled "crazy", there was only one thing the Manchester United star was going to do – play a blinder.

ENGLAND 4 SLOVAKIA 0

BY JIM VAN WIJK

DAVID BECKHAM broke Bobby Moore's outfield appearance record for England with his 109th cap in a Fab Four friendly win.

Aston Villa forward Emile Heskey had given Fabio Capello's side an early lead, only to then go off injured, followed by his replacement Carlton Cole.

Wayne Rooney headed in a cross from Beckham – who came on at half-time – to make it 2-0 on 70 minutes.

Frank Lampard added a third and Rooney a fourth in stoppage time as England warmed up in style for Wednesday's World Cup qualifier against Ukraine.

England made all the early running, forcing a couple of corners.

Snatched

Steven Gerrard was in the thick of the action straight away, and it was his run into the left side of the area which set up the opening goal on eight minutes.

Rooney slid the ball into the Liverpool midfielder, who spun his marker and pulled a left-footed pass back across the six-yard box.

Heskey arrived at the near post, getting ahead of Martin Skrtel to force in his first England goal since 2003.

It should have been 2-0 soon after when the big striker was picked out by Rooney – but somehow managed to send a free header over an open goal from a yard out.

But Heskey did not last much longer before he was replaced, in the 15th minute, by West Ham's Carlton Cole after appearing to aggravate an Achilles problem.

With 31 minutes gone, David James produced a good stop to push out a well-struck, 20-yard effort by Miroslav Karhan following a corner.

Roo fires England as Becks tops Bob's cap record

CALM DOWN: Fabio Capello chats with goal hero Wayne Rooney

Carlton Cole shot tamely when set up by Gerrard's run into the left side of the Slovakia penalty area.

That proved to be the last action for the sub, who went down clutching his groin and was eventually replaced by Portsmouth striker Peter Crouch after only 21 minutes on the field.

Aaron Lennon cut in down the right and his angled shot was blocked by the keeper at the near post, with Gerrard then seeing his follow-up header pushed behind.

Slovakia almost snatched an equaliser following a mix-up between Ashley Cole and Matt Upson on the edge of their own penalty area. Robert Vittek latched onto the loose ball and fired goalwards, which James touched over.

At the other end, Gerrard's low drive was held by Senecky while Rooney cut inside from the left but then shot over.

Drill

Beckham came on at the start of the second half to overtake Moore's mark, with Lennon making way.

Ben Foster replaced James to make his second England appearance, while Gerrard was rested and Middlesbrough winger Stewart Downing came on.

Rooney was just off target with a low shot from the edge of the penalty area as England pressed again. It was one-way traffic, and Beckham almost got on the end of Barry's lofted ball towards the far post.

England had the ball in the net on 62 minutes when Crouch headed back Beckham's right-wing free-kick and John Terry stabbed it past Senecky – but the assistant's flag was up straight away.

The England skipper then came close after the ball dropped to him on the edge of the area following a brave save from Senecky.

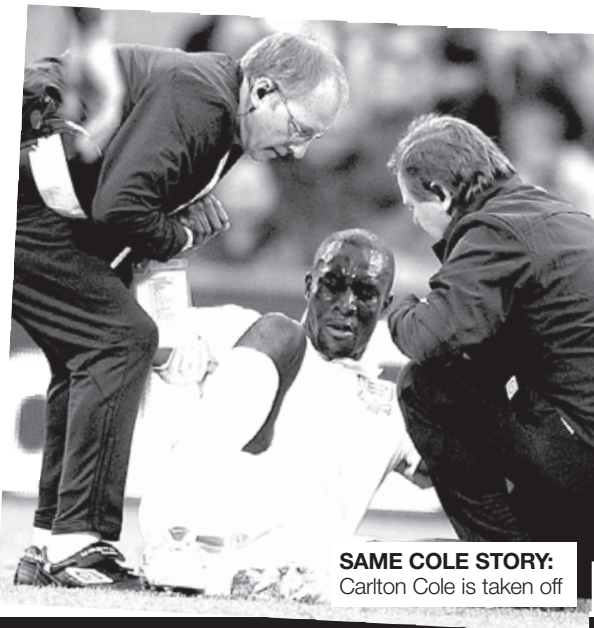

Rooney made it 2-0 on 70 minutes, after the ball found its way to Beckham on the right side of the box. He floated over a perfectly weighted cross, which Rooney dispatched with a planted header into the top left corner for his 20th England goal.

Michael Carrick replaced Crouch, who looked to have suffered a hip problem, for the final 15 minutes.

Lampard rolled in a third goal on 82 minutes, after the Chelsea midfielder collected Carrick's pass and darted into the penalty area.

England saw out the closing stages of the match to give themselves a solid preparation for their qualifier against Ukraine on Wednesday night, with man-of-the-match Rooney chipping in a fourth during stoppage time to put the seal on a cracking performance.

Nigel Worthington's side may have played a game more than their rivals, but this win will boost their confidence.

Poland, meanwhile, pressed the self-destruct button with Michal Zewlakow scoring a bizarre own goal.

Warren Feeney started the ball rolling and Jonny Evans weighed in with his first goal for the province.

Feeney should have put Northern Ireland ahead after three minutes when he was released by Chris Brunt.

However the striker dragged his effort wide of the post.

David Healy then latched on to a careless back pass from Michal Zewlakow five minutes later. Healy got a good first touch, but his effort was scrambled away.

Northern Ireland took the lead in the 10th minute. Brunt hoisted the ball to the back post, Johnson headed it into the area and Feeney made no mistake from close range.

Pressure

Johnson then found space on the right following a long ball from Brunt, only for his cross to be cut out.

Poland broke out of their slumber to equalise in the 27th minute after springing the offside trap.

Ireneusz Jelen raced away and although goalkeeper Maik Taylor got a hand to his effort he was unable to prevent the ball going in the net.

There was another scare for Northern Ireland on the stroke of half-time when Jelen was clear on goal, but his touch let him down.

the second half when they regained the lead. Evans scored his first goal for the Province, sweeping the ball home beyond Boruc following a corner from Grant McCann.

Northern Ireland extended their lead in the 61st minute thanks to a bizarre own goal.

Michael Zewlakow looked on in disbelief as his back pass was completely missed by Boruc, the ball bobbling on the rutted pitch and going under his feet.

Poland pulled a goal back in stoppage time when substitute Marek Saganowski scored with a header following a cross from Jakub Wawrzyniak but it was too little too late.

ALL WHITE ON THE NIGHT

Becks breaks caps record but Fab hit by a striker crisis

BY MATT JOHNSON

ENGLAND shone in their new all-white kit as they gave a woeful Slovakia team a good hiding at Wembley.

David Beckham passed Bobby Moore's 109 caps but the main attraction was Wayne Rooney who bagged two goals in a man-of-the-match show.

But it wasn't all plain sailing for Fabio Capello's side as THREE strikers limped off injured. Emile Heskey lasted just seven minutes after opening the scoring and the man who replaced him — Carlton Cole — didn't make it to half-time.

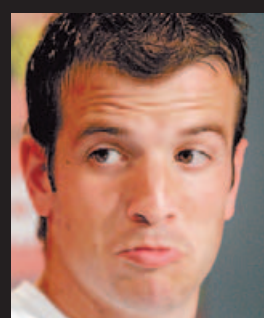

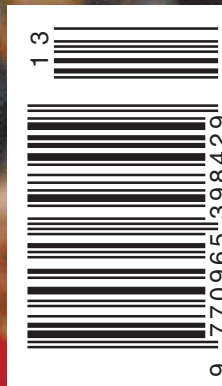

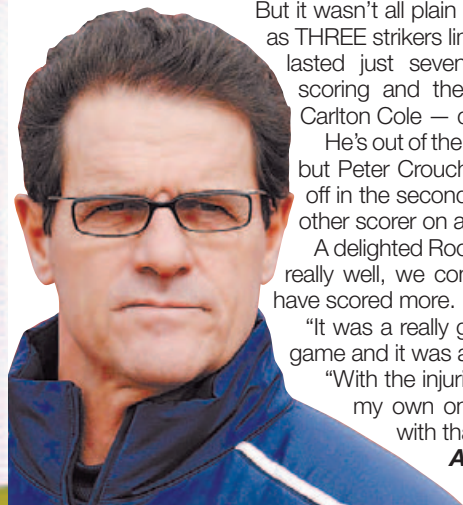

He's out of the midweek qualifier with Ukraine but Peter Crouch should be OK despite going off in the second-half. Frank Lampard was the other scorer on a comfortable night.

A delighted Rooney said: "I thought we played really well, we controlled the game and should have scored more."

"It was a really good warm up for the Ukraine game and it was a well deserved win."

"With the injuries if I have to play up front on my own on Wednesday, I'm very happy with that."

RAFAEL: I'M OFF TO CHELS

DUTCH star Rafael Van der Vaart says he'll join Chelsea this summer.

The midfielder has been at Real Madrid for just eight months but has fallen out of favour with boss Juande Ramos.

With the World Cup taking place next year, the 26-year-old wants first-team football to secure his place in the Dutch squad.

Van Der Vaart says he will leave the Spanish champions in the summer and claims there has been interest from the Blues.

He explained: "Fortunately for me, Chelsea want me, so I have everything clear. "If Guus Hiddink remains at the helm of Chelsea, I hope that the signing will be closed soon. I want to leave Real Madrid."
